

TOWNSEND IS ON STAND IN HIS HEARING

Calls Administration Hostile To His Pension Plan

Washington, May 19.—(AP)—The present administration was described today by Dr. F. E. Townsend as "the hostile force" behind the house committee investigating his old age pension movement.

Before a packed committee room, the retired California physician emphasized the "unfriendly attitude" of the committee and denied assertions that he started the Townsend movement to "make a hat-full of money," or for the sole purpose of obtaining "cold cash."

His statement that his followers "feel like I do about the two old parties," and that a third party would be organized "as soon as the opportunity presents itself," was applauded by Townsends in the audience.

Need Millions

In naming the administration as the "hostile force" behind the investigation, Dr. Townsend said that situation made necessary a recent appeal for a "defense fund," to be spent at his discretion.

"We need millions to carry on a movement like this and we are going to get them," the witness said. James R. Sullivan, committee counsel, examined the elderly, retired California physician, who in four years has become a national figure through his plan to pay $200 a month pensions to all over 60.

At the outset, Rep. Tolson (D-Calif.), a Townsendite committee member, protested the line of questioning, but he was overruled by Chairman Bell (D-Mo.). The committee sustained Bell by a 4 to 2 vote.

"Did you not say 'this old sister has done her part' when you received a five dollar bill from a member," Sullivan asked the witness.

"Absolutely not," Dr. Townsend replied.

Letter in Record

Sullivan read into the record a letter from Dr. Townsend to Robert E. Clements, former national secretary, January 16, 1935, which said:

"You and I have the world by the tail on a down hill pull on this thing if we work it right."

Applause greeted Dr. Townsend's statement that his followers "feel like I feel about the old parties," and that a third party would be formed "as soon as the opportunity presents itself."

Chairman Bell warned that the room would be emptied if there was any further demonstration.

Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich.) contended Dr. Townsend "was sailing under false colors in condemning the old parties and at the same time laying plans for a third party."

"I do," Dr. Townsend replied firmly when asked if he believed his plan would provide leisure for the aged.

He rose to his feet to explain the phrase in one of his letters, "there might be millions in it."

"We plan to get those millions," Dr. Townsend said. "It takes millions to promote a plan of this kind."

Dishonesty Implied

Dr. Townsend said questioning of Clements had been directed to give the impression that "I am a dishonest man."

The doctor said the people "have a pretty good opinion of me," but added that he was not always "the soft spoken, mild mannered old chap" he is often described to be.

He conceded he would like to be classed with Washington and Lincoln, with whom he is ranked in Townsend literature.

"I like that company," Dr. Townsend said.

He said he had received about $68,000 from the organization but had spent much of it for expenses and in promoting the movement.

Sullivan read into the record another letter written by Dr. Townsend, from Butte, Mont., September 4, 1935, to Clements, suggesting a third party.

Way to Lick Parties

"I tell you, old fellow, the way for us to lick the stuffing out of the old parties is to become militant and go after them hammer and tongs for being totally incompetent, as we know they are. x x x"

"To hell with them. If we begin to announce ourselves soon and work like the dickens for the next year we shall be able to lick the stuffing out of them. x x x"

"I am going back into Arizona as soon as possible and help those people to recall their two Senators. x x x"

"Just one successful campaign like that and we would go like a"

SOME ODDITIES IN TODAY'S A. P. WORLD NEWS REPORT

STORK—THEN BABY

Palo Alto, Calif., May 19.—(AP)—Dr. M. E. Rumwell went into his garage one night and found a stork perched on his automobile. Next day an eight-pound son was born to his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Arnold Rumwell.

THUMBED WRONG MAN

Los Angeles, May 19.—(AP)—Charles Johnson, negro, was made a trustee at the county jail and soon he walked off, taking flight by the hitch-hike route. But he didn't hike far. He thumbed a ride with Deputy Sheriff Mike Matzoff, who recognized him.

EXCUSABLE BELIEF

Beverly, Mass., May 19.—(AP)—George Freeman wants his friends to know he's still alive, local reports to the contrary notwithstanding. Freeman, a steeplejack, is ready to excuse those who believed he was dead after a recent 87-foot fall. He said he is "still climbing."

PROPER SURROUNDINGS

Baraboo, Wis., May 19.—(AP)—Ornithologists figured this mother robin must have calculated to cure her fledglings of flight-shyness even before they were hatched. She built her nest on the boom of a steam shovel, laid three eggs in it, and sat complacently on them as the boom swung back and forth.

JUDGE STRUCK BARGAIN

Joliet, Ill., May 19.—(AP)—Police Judge John J. Nicholson of Joliet will get his personal laundry done free for the next month because Henry T. Chee, 42, a Chinese laundryman of nearby Peotone, came to Joliet yesterday shopping for mangles.

He found more taverns than mangle shops, however, and was arraigned today on a disorderly conduct charge. Judge Nicholson assessed a fine and costs amount to $5.20.

But Chee was broke. He made this proposition and the court accepted.

"You let me go. I wash for you free every week for month."

PROMINENT NEW YORKERS PROBED

Investigation of Extortion Ring Widened Out Today

New York, May 19.—(AP)—Assistant District Attorney Charles Pilatsky disclosed today he had sent detectives to interview Mrs. Gloria Vanderbilt, Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney and John W. Davis as the result of rumors he had heard in connection with an inquiry into operations of an extortion ring.

Pilatsky said the detectives interviewed Mrs. Vanderbilt and F. L. Crocker, attorney for Mrs. Whitney, and both promised to cooperate in the inquiry. He said detectives probably would communicate today with Davis, internationally known lawyer and one time presidential candidate.

The assistant prosecutor denied reports that subpoenas had been issued for the three persons.

Two Arraigned

The district attorney's office began an inquiry into the operations of extortionists following the indictment of Max D. Krone, private detective, and A. H. Ross, Brooklyn lawyer. They are charged with extorting $12,900 from Alfred E. Smith, Jr. eldest son of the former governor of New York.

Ross and Krone were arraigned this morning before Judge Morris Koenig. Both pleaded not guilty to the indictments. David Krauss, attorney for Krone, was refused in his request for a reduction in the detective's $50,000 bail, and Krone was taken back to the Tombs. Ross is free in $5,000 bail.

AGED POLO MAN HURT

(Telegraph Special Service)

Polo.—Oliver Hedrick, aged 72, sustained a severe scalp injury and injuries to his legs and was suffering from shock, when he fell a distance of about 15 feet shortly before noon today. He was painting at the Albert Wade farm about a mile southeast of Polo when in some manner he slipped and fell to the ground. Physicians were summoned from Polo and attended him, but the exact extent of his injuries had not been determined at a late hour this afternoon and he was being treated at the Wade home, where he was said to be in severe shock.

DIED IN COLORADO

(Telegraph Special Service)

Polo.—Levi Nuss, aged 75, passed away at Brush, Colo., where he has made his home for several years, he being a former resident of Polo. Two sisters, Mrs. Frank Ohlweine and Mrs. Anna Ryers, both of Polo, survive him. The remains will be brought to Lena tomorrow where funeral services will be conducted from the Methodist church at 3 o'clock with interment at that place.

TWO NEW CLUES TO IDENTITY OF THOMAS J. KELLY

Albums and Religious Work Property of Flophouse Miser

Chicago, May 19.—(AP)—Two photograph albums and a religious book were disclosed today as new clues to the identity of the heirs to the $140,000 estate of James Thomas Kelly, who died last year after spending the latter part of his life in flophouses.

The volumes were found in the real estate office of George Lacey by Jack Rubens, chief investigator for the public administrator. Lacey said Kelly had left them there a year prior to his death and had forgotten them.

The book, a "Life of Our Saviors," bore the inscription "To James Thomas Kelly, presented by his mother, Elizabeth Kelley." The flophouse miser's name heretofore was recorded as Kelly and the new spelling opened up another field of investigation.

Since Kelly's death six persons have been convicted of conspiracy in forging his will and two such wills have been found to be fraudulent.

Four 'Widows' Appear

Thirty-eight persons, including four women claiming to be his widow, have pressed for a share in the estate. How the money was accumulated by Kelly, a former convict, was a mystery.

The date of Kelly's birth was set down in the religious book as Thursday, December 25, 1873. On the opposite page, under "deaths," was written "Patrick Dwyer, aged 43, died Sept. 29, 1878." Neither Rubens nor Attorney Don Peebles, representing the public administrator, could say who Patrick Dwyer had been.

Check Cemetery Records

Another death list was that of "Elizabeth" Kelley, apparently Kelly's mother. It was dated March 14, 1892, with burial two days later in Calvary cemetery. Rubens said he would check Calvary cemetery records in an effort to discover further clues.

The album contained pictures believed by Rubens to be of members of Kelly's family.

Sues to Recover Amount of Warrant

Everett E. Holliston of Amboy has filed an action in the circuit court against the highway commissioner of Amboy township to collect $525.16 and interest on a tax anticipation warrant issued by the township.

The bill alleges that Joseph F. Grennan, Amboy township highway commissioner, contracted a debt with the plaintiff for gasoline, oil and greases used in operating the township highway machinery and on Jan. 29, 1935 a tax anticipation warrant was issued for the above sum which the plaintiff has been unable to collect, and the suit has been brought to collect the amount, plus six per cent interest from the date of issuance.

Telephone Company Extending Conduits

The Dixon Home Telephone Company has a force of workmen engaged in the extension of their underground system of cable lines west of the city limits along the Lincoln Highway. Seven thousand feet of cable is being laid to replace the present pole lines, starting from Hess' corners and extending west to the George Smith farm, at a cost of more than $2000. The present pole lines will be removed when the work is completed and the improvement will serve to assure better service to the company's patrons and is an extension to the present modern system of underground cable lines.

King Edward Opens Straw Hat Season

London, May 19.—(AP)—The head that wears a crown appeared in straw today as King Edward officially inaugurated the straw hat season. He appeared at the Chelsea flower show without a vest and showed he was as worried about the heat and drought as his subjects.

"It's just hopeless for us gardeners unless we get some rain," the King said. "At the Fort, I had only a half hour's sprinkle Sunday."

Edward spent Sunday in the flower garden of his country home, Fort Belvedere.

DAM COLLAPSED

Prairie Du Chien, Wis., May 19.—

API.—Pumps, concrete mixers and other machinery and four acres of land were submerged yesterday when a coffer dam of the $200,000 dam being built across the Mississippi river at Guttenberg, Iowa, near here, collapsed. Engineers blamed the strain of high water and estimated the loss at $40,000. Before work can be resumed a new coffer dam of sheet piling must be built.

New Dealers Seek Means to Continue Schemes Upset by Court Decisions

New Coal Regulatory Law May Be Sought in This Congress

(Copyright, 1936, by The Associated Press.)

Washington, May 19.—Swift moves to write a new Guffey coal control act and to continue most of the huge relief drive were made today by officials in the aftermath of two blows dealt the New Deal program in the courts.

President Roosevelt was silent on the Supreme Court decision demolishing the Guffey act to regulate wages and hours and fix prices in the bituminous coal industry, and on a District of Columbia Court of Appeals decision which called a halt on part of the $4,880,000,000 relief program.

While New Dealers deplored the decisions and their foes hailed them, a conference was hastily called last night. Authoritative sources said that representatives of the national bituminous coal commission, the justice department, some operators backing the Guffey act and mine union leaders attended and immediately set to work to draft a new coal regulation bill.

For Price Regulation

Word was passed that the key-stone of the new measure, expected to be introduced in congress soon, would be price regulation and marketing provisions.

The Supreme Court majority, in a sweeping decision, had ruled that the Guffey act's provisions for regulating wages and hours were unconstitutional invasion of state's rights. It also knocked out price-fixing clauses on the ground they were inextricably tied to the labor provisions, but it was non-committal on what attitude it would take to price-fixing if enacted separately.

New Dealers displayed every intention to press all possible portions of this and other programs until the last legal shot was fired.

Amid controversy as to how much of the $4,880,000,000 relief act of 1935 was affected by the District of Columbia court's decision yesterday, Attorney General Cummings issued a statement contending that only a small part of it was declared unconstitutional.

He said the opinion applied only to such undertakings as the suburban housing project at Bound Brook, N. J., carried on by Rexford G. Tugwell's resettlement administration.

Decision Not Binding?

He evidently took the view that the court's general criticism of the huge relief act was not a binding decision. The court, finding fault with the powers granted President Roosevelt by congress, said: "This is delegation of powers running riot."

Disputing Cummings' interpretation, Spencer Gordon, Washington attorney who fought the government on the case, said: "The entire $275,000,000 resettlement administration was 'in the ash can.'"

Preparing to fight the decision up to the Supreme Court, the administration made plain the flow of billions would go on. It is officially estimated that $1,000,000,000 of the $4,880,000,000 appropriation will remain unspent on July 1, but it is considered unlikely that a Supreme Court ruling will be possible before all the money is spent.

Question Wagner Bill

The Guffey coal act decision, in which the Supreme Court split three ways, raised questions among lawyers here as to the fate of the Wagner labor relations act, regulating employer-employee relations in other industries. Most officials declined to comment on the Wagner law's exact status pending study.

The decision also led to speculation as to whether demands for constitutional amendments would revive. For the present, at least, there was no sign of any concerted move among officials on Capitol Hill.

Col. Frank Knox, candidate for the Republican nomination for president, issued a statement challenging the president to "advocate a constitutional amendment to give the federal government additional power over intra-state business and intra-state labor." He said that would be "honest politics" and would "insure a presidential contest fought out on a real issue."

Sweeping Decision

The Guffey act decision was so sweeping that it seemed to many to outlaw all federal regulation of hours, wages and working conditions in production industries. The act, seeking to regulate the vast bituminous industry, imposed a 15 per cent tax on the sale price of all coal at the mine. Ninety per cent of this would be refunded, it said, to operators who abided by prices, wages and hours of labor fixed in a code supervised by the

Four Vessels Suffer Minor Damage During Navy Maneuvers

Washington, May 19.—(AP)—Three naval vessels and a merchant ship sustained minor damage in a series of accidents during the last ten days in the annual fleet maneuvers in the Pacific off Panama.

The navy department revealed today that the heavy cruiser Minneapolis and the freight steamer Marore were in what was described as a minor collision in the outer harbor at Balboa, Canal Zone, on May 9. The damage to both was said to have been so slight as not to necessitate docking for repairs.

Simultaneously, the navy announced that the battleships Mississippi and New Mexico developed turbine trouble while actively engaged in the maneuvers and, escorted by three mine layers, were proceeding under reduced speed to the naval base at San Pedro, Calif., for repairs. They have been detached from the maneuvers, which have been in progress more than two weeks.

The announcement said reports that the Mississippi and New Mexico had been in collisions were baseless.

Parents Supporting Strike of East St. Louis Grade Pupils

East St. Louis, Ill., May 19.—(AP)—With parents assisting, a strike of grade school children was in progress today at LaFayette school over the dismissal of six teachers. "We want our teachers back," read placards carried by protesting children and parents who joined in picketing yesterday.

Three hundred and seventy of the school's 425 students went on strike then. Petitions asking the school board to reconsider the dismissals were signed by 600 patrons.

June 15 Last Day to Ask Crop Loan

Washington, May 19.—(AP)—The farm credit administration today set May 31 as the final date for receiving emergency crop loan applications in most of the southern and southwestern states and June 15 for all other states.

The FCA said 1935 loans were being made only to farmers unable to obtain credit elsewhere. While loans were less numerous than last year, they numbered more than 150,000 at the close of business May 15.

SAFETY PLANS FOR AMERICANS IN JERUSALEM

Continued Disorders in Holy City Lead to Instructions

Jerusalem, May 19.—(AP)—Precautions by the United States consulate for the protection of American citizens in case of further disorders were reported today by the Jewish telegraphic agency. Leland B. Morris, Acting United States Consul General, was stated to have sent written advice to the American Jewish Center, composed of 600 American citizens, given them the following instructions in case of outbreaks:

1. Americans are to prepare American flags for conspicuous display over buildings in the American Center and to phone Mr. Morris immediately if disturbances occur in the quarter;
2. All American Jews are to assemble in the Center in the event of general rioting until the arrival of consulate officials;
3. Name and passport numbers of all United States citizens are to be registered with the consulate.

Three Wounded Today

Two Jews and one policeman were wounded today when Bedouins attacked the Jewish settlement of Kfar Tabor in the Jezreel valley in an effort to damage the waterworks. The Bedouins escaped and the settlement now is suffering a water shortage.

Jerusalem became a city of wild rumors after another Jew had been shot dead this morning raising the total number of Jews killed to 26 since April 19. Sixty-seven Jews have been wounded.

The government tightened its restrictions in an effort to put an end to the Holy City violence, ordering the curfew to start at 7 P. M. instead of 8 P. M., clearing the streets each night.

Troops and police patrolled the road from Jerusalem to the port of Haifa, permitting traffic over that route only if accompanied by troops both at the front and at the rear.

Arabs have proclaimed a civil disobedience strike in protest against Jewish immigration.

HINDENBURG IS DELAYED BY ADVERSE WEATHER

Aboard the Zeppelin Hindenburg en route to America, May 19.—(AP)—Swinging south of a storm area over the Atlantic, the big Zeppelin Hindenburg picked up speed today with a possibility of reaching New York late tonight on its second flight from Germany.

Except for one sudden squall yesterday which tilted the airship's nose, broke dishes and frightened some passengers, the voyage proceeded with smooth monotony.

Capt. Ernst Lehmann, in command of the craft, told the passengers at dinner the unusual weather conditions being encountered on the flight involved no danger.

At 9 A. M. Central Standard time, Radio Marine received the Hindenburg's position as approximately 810 nautical miles east of New York—indicating the Zeppelin was traveling at that time at a speed of about 40 knots.

Figuring the arrival time on the basis of that speed—considerably under the Hindenburg's possibilities—the Zeppelin would be over New York at about 6 A. M. Wednesday.

Have Difficulty in Getting Jury Today in Sycamore Trial

Sycamore, Ill., May 19.—(AP)—Fifteen additional talemens were called today in an effort to complete a jury for the trial of Harrison Crooke, 26, charged with the murder of Mrs. Emma Ander of DeKalb.

Seventy prospective jurors of the 76 originally summoned had been questioned at noon, and four were accepted. Three others had been tentatively agreed upon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ander operated a neighborhood grocery in their home at the time she was struck by a shotgun blast the night of March 5, just after she had refused admittance to Crooke.

Treasurer to Make Tax Payments Soon

County Treasurer Walter Origenes expects to make the first payment of taxes to cities, towns and villages as well as all township and school board treasurers during the first week in June. Some advance payments have already been made from that office.

At the present rate of payment, 50 per cent of the total tax will be collected by June 1, when the penalty goes into effect, which will warrant the payment to the various sources. Payments are coming in very satisfactorily and in keeping with previous years, it was stated.

TO MAKE HOME HERE

G. J. A. Pensink, formerly of Chicago and for many years a resident of Holland, Mich., has arrived in Dixon to make his home with his son, L. L. Pensink. The former was raised in Holland, Mich., years before tulips were grown in that vicinity and recalls the origin of the spring festival which now attracts many thousands of visitors to that city at this time of the year when the tulips are in the splendor.

HANK'S POULTRY CLUB HERE PLAN

Hundred Youngsters to Compete for Valuable Prizes

Henry L. Schumacher, manager of the Dixon Packing Company plant on Seventh street today announced the organization of Hank's Poultry Club, an organization of boys and girls between the ages of 11 and 15 years. Saturday, May 23, the club will be organized at the plant with an appropriate program and entertainment. A total of 3,000 chicks and a half ton of chick feed will be distributed gratis by Manager Schumacher on this occasion.

Members of Hank's Poultry Club will be limited to 100. The membership will be limited to boys and girls between the ages of 11 and 15 years and to one member of a family. Application blanks will be received and the first 100 applicants selected will be entitled to become members of the club. Members will receive 30 chicks and ten pounds of feed. They will then care for the chicks, making a monthly written report of the progress with their flock, the club activities to terminate on Oct. 24.

Will Return Five Birds. On the expiration date, the members will return five birds from the flock to Manager Schumacher, the remainder of the birds to be kept by the member to dispose of at his discretion. Parental approval is required before the applicants may be entitled to membership in the club.

Liberal cash prizes will be awarded the members of the club at the expiration of the club season on Oct. 24. Four prizes will be awarded the member delivering the heaviest individual chicken raised from the group; an equal number of prizes for the heaviest group of five cockerels turned in for club dues and six prizes for the most weight raised from the entire flock. Where Red Comb feed is fed exclusively during the time of the club's project, the first and second prizes in each group will be doubled.

On Saturday, when the club is organized and the chicks distributed, children and their parents will be entertained at the Dixon Packing Company's plant, where refreshments will be served.

NATIONAL MARITIME DAY

EVERY DAY LIVING

By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton

Dr. Joseph Fort Newton, writer of this column, was born in Decatur, Tex., in 1878, and was a student at Hardy Institute and Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, Ky. He received the degree of Litt. D. from Coe College, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, in 1912, and D. D. from Tufts College in 1918, as well as LL. D. from Temple University in 1929.

In 1893 Dr. Newton was ordained to the Baptist ministry and was pastor of the First Baptist church of Paris, Tex., in 1897-98; associate pastor of a non-sectarian church in St. Louis from 1898 until 1900. The following year he founded the People's Church in Dixon, Ill., a charge which he relinquished in 1908 to become pastor of the Liberal Christian Church of Cedar Rapids. In 1916, he left there for the City Temple, London; in 1919, he was called to the Church of the Divine Maternity, New York, and in 1925 he came to Philadelphia to the Memorial Church of St. Paul, Overbrook.

From 1930 until 1935, Dr. Newton served as co-rector of St. James Church, 22d and Locust Sts., with Rev. Dr. John Mockridge. Dr. Mockridge now heads that parish and Dr. Newton is special preacher for the Associated Churches of St. James's and St. Luke and the Epiphany.

The complete list of Dr. Newton's books appears in Who's Who in America. Some of his most widely read ones are: "The Truth and the Life; God and the Golden Rule; Things I Know in Religion, and The Angel in the Soul."

Miss Zoeller Guest Of Honor at Tea

Miss Helen Finley and Mrs. Wayne Wolf delightfully entertained with a tea Saturday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock in honor of Miss Frances Zoeller who is soon to be married to William F. Schnell, Jr.

There were twenty guests present at the tea and miscellaneous favors held for Miss Zoeller at the Finley home. Spring flowers were attractively employed in the decorations and the dainty colors were pink and white. Pink tapers also graced the tea table, where Mrs. Morey Pires poured.

Miss Zoeller received a number of love gifts with the best wishes of her friends for happiness.

Mr. Schnell is now in the west, in Los Angeles, and the wedding will probably take place in that city.

SUNSHINE CLASS TO MEET THURSDAY EVENING
The Sunshine class of St. Paul's Lutheran church will meet Thursday evening at the church. The hostesses are Blondine Bishop, Amelia Dykeman, Mary Peterson and Hannah Haggard.

Ill. Federation Women's Club Opens 3-Day Convention Today

Chicago, May 19.—(AP)—An increase of 3,150 members since last year's convention was reported today to the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, gathering in its annual meeting.

Mrs. Homer S. Corley, Tower Hill, membership chairman, formally announced the increase in her annual report. New clubs accepted into membership totaled 54, she said. Four county organizations, Adams, Bond, Coles and McDonough, have been added to the state federation.

"It does not seem as hard now as when I started," Mrs. Corley said, "to interest women in joining our federation. Where their primary interest used to lie in literary organizations, now they also belong to a federated women's club. The effect on public opinion is beyond calculation."

Formal reports of officers and committees occupied the delegates' time during the morning under the leadership of Mrs. Edward J. Lehman, Sidney, president of the federation.

Wesley E. Disney, Oklahoma congressman and sponsor of a bill creating an academy of public affairs—similar in organization to West Point and Annapolis—for training students who seek careers in public administration and the diplomatic service, was the only formal speaker on the morning program.

Disney explained his proposed school would be co-educational, students would be named by the president, senators and congressmen, and graduates would have a civil service type of preference.

"We have thought our way out of feudalism, superstition and slavery," Disney declared, "and might do likewise to rid ourselves of war, hatred, bigotry and depression."

"Such an institution as I have planned would produce men and women of broad vision, firm technical training, with their lives dedicated to ideals the institution would represent."

Mrs. John W. Whitehurst, Baltimore, Md., educational chairman of the general federation, appeared on the afternoon program, speaking on "Education in a Democracy."

"The greatest contribution the club women of this country have to make during this present chaotic period," she said, "is first to educate themselves as to the proposed changes for economic and social reconstruction, then to try to educate the vast number of citizens who have not had educational advantages."

"Also, they can create public sentiment for greater emphasis on the allied subjects of government and public affairs in our schools. Club women must be made to realize there is great need for an intelligent citizenry at this time in order to preserve our democracy."

Miss Carpenter Has Entries in Vanderbilt Gallery, N. Y.

The twenty-third annual exhibition of the Allied Artists of America is being held from May 9 to 31st inclusive, at the American Fine Arts Building, 215 W. 57th street, N. Y. Of great interest to Dixon friends is the fact that Miss Anna Carpenter, for years Supervisor of Art in the New York Schools, has several entries in the exhibition at the Vanderbilt Gallery. Exhibition in the Vanderbilt Gallery is conceded to be a great honor.

The title of one of the pictures in the center gallery is "Aspens at a Pool," and the title of another in the south gallery is called "The Foothills."

Miss Anna Carpenter and sister Miss Edna Carpenter, also a successful teacher, make their home in New York City. These charming women have many friends in Dixon, which is their "home town."

P. N. G. CLUB TO MEET ON THURSDAY IN I. O. O. F. HALL

The P. N. G. club will meet in I. O. O. F. hall Thursday, May 21st. Supper will be served at 6 o'clock by the hostesses. After the business meeting there will be a program. All members are urged to attend. The hostesses are Mrs. Hattie Rossiter, Mrs. Libbie Shaver, Mrs. Mary Hutchins, Miss Florence Stoner.

Tested RECIPES

BRIDGE REFRESHMENTS

Menu for Eight
Gelatin Crab Filled Ring
Cheese Delights
Ripe Olives
Strawberry Molds
Coffee

Gelatin Ring
1 package lemon flavored gelatin
1½ cups boiling water
¼ cup salad dressing
4 hard cooked eggs, diced
2 tablespoons chopped green peppers

2 tablespoons chopped pimientos
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon paprika

Pour water over gelatin mixture and stir until dissolved. Cool until little thick. Fold in remaining ingredients. Pour into ring mold which has been rinsed out of cold water. Chill until firm. Unmold, fill and surround with crab salad.

Cheese Delights (Served Hot)

3 cups pastry flour
6 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
5 tablespoons fat
1¼ cups milk

Mix dry ingredients. Cut in fat with knife and slowly add milk. When soft dough forms, pat it out until ½ inch thick. Spread with cheese mixture and roll up. Cut off ½ inch slices and arrange, flat side up in greased pan. Bake eight minutes in moderate oven. Serve warm. No butter is required at serving.

Cheese Mixture

4 tablespoons soft butter
½ cup yellow cream cheese
¼ teaspoon chopped parsley
¼ teaspoon chopped onions
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon paprika
2 teaspoons cream

Mix ingredients with fork. When soft spread on soft dough.

Strawberry Molds

8 sponge cake circles
1 pint vanilla ice cream
3 cups strawberries
½ cup sugar
½ cup whipped cream
½ teaspoon vanilla

Cut sponge cake circles two inches in diameter. Arrange on paper doilies on serving plates and spread with ice cream. Combine rest of ingredients and serve on top.

Miss Davies in Dance Pageant Rockford College

Included in the cast for "The Thief of Bagdad" to be performed at Rockford college on Saturday, May 23, is Miss Mary Davies, daughter of Mrs. Oliver Rogers, Dixon. "The Thief of Bagdad," taken from "Tales of Arabian Nights," has been selected as this year's dance pageant to be performed in honor of the 1936 May Queen at Rockford. More than two hundred students will take part in the May Festival, a traditional ceremony of forty-two years standing.

Although the name of the new queen will not be revealed until she is crowned by Miss Martha Lee Bozeman of Moline, Illinois, (the 1935 queen) the names of the three candidates have been announced. They are Miss Anne Peterson of Evanston, Illinois, Miss Elizabeth Rhoades of Omaha, Nebraska, and Miss Jane Schwab of Holland, New York. Two of them will be attendants to the one who is finally selected as queen. With her crowning, the queen will receive the greatest honor that Rockford college bestows upon one of its graduates each year.

All had a pleasant evening. It is hoped that all will be present at the first meeting next fall.

Mrs. Marloth on "Franconia" Round The World Cruise

Madame Marloth of Capetown, Africa, well-known in Dixon, having visited in Dixon on several occasions with her son, Werner Marloth and family, is enjoying an around the world cruise on the Cunard White Star liner "Franconia," and sends a copy of the ship's paper to Dixon, in which she is mentioned several times. In the item of the Ball of All Nations, Madame Marloth received honorable mention costumed as "Queen Victoria." Another item of interests states:

Speaking of Lavish Flowers

Frau Professor Marloth, whose husband was for 50 years eminent known as a chemist and botanist in South Africa and a Professor at the University of Stellenbosch, gave a most interesting lecture on the flora of South Africa on May 9th, in the Starboard Garden Lounge. As illustrations for her lecture, Mrs. Marloth used a great many of the 300 colored plates which were published in her husband's four-volume work entitled "The Flora of South Africa." Dr. Marloth was a keen mountaineer and a good photographer. In some cases he spent days and days up on Table Mountain and on one occasion was rewarded by catching a large butterfly fertilizing the disc, pride of Table Mountain. Until then no botanical scholar had ever known how this beautiful red orchid propagated. Another most interesting story was that of the lithops, or "window plant," which lets in sunshine through a small window and stores up the necessary chlorophyll below the ground. Many others of the Karoo resemble stones in color and shape, which protects them from being eaten by animals. Others store up moisture on which they live during the dry season.

Still another, a lovely amaryllis, had a seed pod that swung out from the mother flower on a long slender thread, so that it would not fall immediately on the parent bulb.

The cruise is drawing to a close and Madame Marloth is expected for a visit with Dixon relatives and friends.

Thornton Wilder to Be Speaker Rockford College Commence't

Thornton Wilder, famous as the author of "The Bridge of San Luis Rey" and several other distinguished books, will be the commencement speaker at Rockford college when the class of 1936 receives its diplomas on Monday afternoon, June 8.

Born in Madison, Wisconsin, Mr. Wilder spent eight years in China while his father was American Consul-general first in Hongkong and then in Shanghai. During this time, the author attended school in Chefoo, China.

Mr. Wilder attended Oberlin college for two years, and then spent a year with the Coast Artillery Corps at Narragansett Bay. Later he entered Yale University, from which institution he received an A. B. After leaving Yale, he spent two years as a graduate student at the American Academy in Rome, and after further graduate work at Princeton, he received an A. M. in 1925. Mr. Wilder then became associated with the Lawrenceville School in Lawrenceville, New Jersey. He has been a member of the University of Chicago faculty since 1930.

In 1926 Mr. Wilder published "The Bridge of San Luis Rey," and his fame was immediately established. "The Woman of Andros," published in 1930, also attracted wide-spread attention. When Harpers published his "Heaven's My Destination," last year, it was an almost instant success, and headed book-seller's lists for several months. Mr. Wilder is generally considered in England and America as one of the greatest English stylists now writing.

Inspiring W.C.T.U. Meeting In Dixon

The W. C. T. U. met on Friday afternoon in the Brethren church for its May meeting, with Miss Marie Thompson as pianist. A. J. sang, "The Beautiful Hour of Noontide." Twelve o'clock noon is the time set apart by W. C. T. U. women everywhere as a special time of prayer.

Miss Thompson had selected Job 37:21 as the scripture lesson which reads thus: "And now men see not the bright light which is in the clouds." It was a very appropriate thought for these times when the dark clouds of intemperance and other evils are hovering over our nation. But there is a bright light with every cloud no matter how dark and foreboding which is encouraging. After prayer, all sang the Crusade Hymn.

Miss Kate Plant read a leaflet on "The W. C. T. U. Is Still Needed" and also, gave a short talk on the importance of increasing the membership. The organization is growing. The quota of new members in the state of Illinois this year is 4000. A gleaner is a person who secures 1, 2, 3 or 4 new members and anyone securing five new members is a Ruth.

A campaign is on to raise one-half million of dollars during a five year period. This money is to be used for the Frances Willard Centenary or Alcohol Education fund. Illinois is asked for $25,000 and Lee county for $300. Dixon Union voted to continue sending its share to this fund.

Rev. W. W. Marshall, pastor of the Baptist church, gave the address of the afternoon. A few of the points emphasized were that statistics show that automobile accidents and fatalities resulting from the same have, and are increasing tremendously since repeal. In spite of the revenue derived from alcohol, taxes have greatly increased, Bootlegging still continues. Government control in Canada is a failure.

The next meeting will be the Flower Mission meeting in charge of Mrs. Emerson Bennett. Those having flowers are requested to bring them to this meeting for distribution among the sick and shut-ins. Mrs. Herman Missman led in the closing prayer.

SOCIALISTS SEIZE AGRICULTURE

"I went into the Roosevelt administration because I saw a chance to do something for agriculture and, through agriculture, for the nation. I got out when I saw that I had no chance to do anything either for agriculture or for the nation. I am in politics for agriculture—not in agriculture for politics."

In the foregoing language George N. Peek, former Ogle county man, introduces his series of articles in the Saturday Evening Post. It calls for no comment. We desire to parallel it with the following:

We are limited in the extent to which we may quote Mr. Peek's article, but we recommend that persons interested read it in the Post.

George N. Peek was the first administrator of the agricultural adjustment act. Let him tell what this act was and upon what he based his hopes:

"The agricultural adjustment act was a hodgepodge of conflicting notions compromised into a bill which had to be passed in order to get action. In supporting the act, I thought that it would be used for constructive purposes and I did not have the slightest idea that in its administration it would become principally an instrument to regiment the farmer through acreage control. I had not the slightest idea that it would not be used for the purposes which through the years we had discussed—to open our foreign markets, to sell our surpluses, to improve distribution at home and to pay proper benefits independently of acreage control."

That is not from a newspaper that is mistrusting the entire New Deal, but from the man who headed organizations that carried the farm vote into the Roosevelt camp, and became the administrator of the AAA.

Interest may be found in notations from the diary kept by Mr. Peek through the period of conferences in advance of his appointment. Perhaps he had fullest confidence in all the New Dealers surrounding him, but there is a note that carries through the daily records that sounds as though he didn't have. Even then it was beginning to appear that somebody was going to get a double-crossing. That could be seen as far away from Washington as the Mississippi river.

Let the former AAA administrator describe the setting in which he found himself:

"I entered what I thought was a democratic administration, not because it was democratic, but because it was pledged to a certain course of action. I eventually found that I was not in a democratic administration, but in a curious collection of socialists and internationalists who were neither republicans nor democrats.

"They, fanatic-like, believed that their objective transcended the objectives of ordinary human beings and therefore they could not allow themselves to be hampered by platform pledges or by the constitution.

"There were two broad general groups—the socialists and the internationalists. The socialists, or more strictly, the collectivists, seemed—for nothing was in the open—to be headed by Felix Frankfurter, Rexford G. Tugwell and Jerome Frank."

Farther on we find this information of which we have heard before, but which we like to receive directly from Mr. Peek, who was there.

"A plague of young lawyers settled on Washington. They all claimed to be friends of somebody or other and mostly of Felix Frankfurter and Jerome Frank. They floated airily into offices, took desks, asked for papers and found no end of things to be busy about. I never found out why they came, what they did, or why they left. Perhaps all of them expected to be hired. I only know that in the legal division were formed the plans which eventually turned the AAA from a device to aid the farmers into a device to introduce the collectivist system of agriculture into this country. . . . Practically all the young lawyers who swarmed into Washington dangle Phi Beta Kappa keys were enveloped in the delusion that they carried with them the tablets containing a new dispensation. They were going to inform the established lawyers and the supreme court what the law really was."

Worst of all, they did carry a new dispensation and it was accepted by the president of the United States who had been elected on representation and upon promises that he would do the opposite things in giving the people a New Deal.

The Pecks, the Johnsons, the Warburgs, the Ache-sons, the Spragues, the Douglasses, the Woodins are gone. The Frankfurters, the Tugwells, the Franks, and the crackpots remain.

In Peek's last conversation with President Roosevelt, the president asked him what he was going to do and he replied:

"I am going out to continue the work that has taken most of my time for thirteen years. . . ."

In concluding the first article, Mr. Peek says:

"I know that I have fought for the truth as I have seen it; I have kept the faith as I have known it. In recording the struggle I am seeking to tell my loyal associates and supporters in the long farm battle what the developments have been and what the portents are if present policies are carried through.

"The American dream of a free, peaceful and prosperous United States, resting on the foundations of a self-reliant home-owning agriculture, is not yet dead.
It is worth working for and fighting for. It still lies within our power to make this dream come true."

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

The Tinies kept on working till the old prospector said, "You will get all fagged out unless you rest. What say we have some lunch?"

"I am glad to prepare a meal, and then much better you will feel. Now, tell me, tots, do all of you think it's a real good lunch?"

All of the Tinies shouted, "Yea! We're hungry. What more need we say?" Then Doty said, "You stay right here, and let me get things set."

"Fair Goldy can give me some aid, and soon a fine lunch will be made. 'Twill be as good as anybody else could make. I'll bet."

"Well, well, that's fine," the old man said. "You two kind girls go ahead. You'll find a lot of tasty things right in my old ice chest. 'Just pile my dinner table high. Then call, and we'll come running. I will leave it to you to pick out whatever you think is best."

Within the hour they'd all had lunch, and then the old man said,

"Now, bunch, I am about to leave you, to go sailing through the air. 'I'll call an eagle here to me, and one that's strong as strong can be. I will be set to go when ropes are fastened to my chair."

"I soon will reach the town where all my gold is banked, if I don't fall. Then I will start around the world to see a lot of sights."

"Now, here comes what is best of all. I'm going to tell you how to call a pelican, and when he comes, he'll serve you Tinymites. 'Then you can build a bigger chair. The bird will take you through the air, out on a new ad-venture. I am sure naught will go wrong!"

Then came an eagle. It sailed 'round, and picked the old man off the ground. The Tinies watched him ride away, and Goldy cried, "So long."

Ashton Woman's Club Will Entertain District Convention

The Ashton Woman's Club will be hostess to the 1937 annual convention of the Thirteenth District

Gov. Landon Confers With Two Ardent Backers

Gov. Alfred M. Landon, to the nation at large, may be an outstanding candidate for the G. O. P. presidential nomination, but to his most intimate companions, shown above with him, he's more than that. Nancy Jo Landon, 3, and her brother, John Cobb, 2, assert he's the best dad in the whole world, and a dandy companion in a romp. Note the resemblance between Nancy Jo and her father, as she helps him relax from his cares of office. And though the governor is becoming used to the limelight, young John apparently doesn't relish the glare of the photo flash bulb.

Federation of Women's Clubs to be held the first week in May of next year. This district is composed of six counties, Lee, Whiteside, Ogle, Jo Daviess, Carroll and Stephenson, and has a representative from fifty Women's clubs. The convention is a two session and the program will include several excellent speakers each day.

Ashton is the smallest city that has ever entertained the district meeting which is attended by over 350 delegates. However with Ashton's splendid Memorial building in which to accommodate such a gathering the Ashton Woman's club will very capably and efficiently sponsor the convention.

The last meeting of the year for the local club will be held Tuesday, May 19 at the Masonic Hall. Reports of officers, department chairmen and delegates to the district convention at Sterling will be given. There will also be election of officers and voting on amendments. Every member is requested to be present and to bring suggestions for programs, ways and means, and community projects for the coming year. During the program following the business session an art exhibit will be sponsored by the art and literature department with Mrs. Orno Kersten and Miss Lucile Hart as chairmen. Any one having reproductions of famous masterpieces is requested to bring them to the Masonic hall early.

The annual meeting of the Ashton Woman's club will be a musical sponsored by the music departments, and will be held in the Mills and Petrie Memorial building on Saturday afternoon, May 23. Tea will be served by the committee in charge and the public is invited.

Gertrude Michael was a concert pianist at the age of 12. She still practices almost daily.

DIVORCE GRANTED TO LOCAL WOMAN IN CIRCUIT COURT MONDAY

Bertha Smith of Princeton appeared in the Circuit Court Monday with her attorney, R. L. Russell and filed a complaint for divorce against her husband, Robert L. Smith. The complaint charged that the couple were married June 17, 1928, and that they lived together until more than a year ago, when the husband wilfully deserted his wife. No children were born to the union, and after hearing the evidence, Judge Joe A. Davis entered a decree for divorce. The court also allowed the plaintiff to resume her maiden name of Bertha Carlson. Mr. Smith did not contest the hearing.

CLAIM FILED.

A claim for mechanics lien was filed with Circuit Clerk Dorsey S. Dayton Monday on behalf of Harry C. Wickey, local plumber against the Prichard property on South Church street, claiming $25.80 due and unpaid for materials and labor.

CRASH DEMOLISHES CAR OF COAL HOLLOW LAD ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON

The Chevrolet sedan owned by Clifford Meade of Coal Hollow was utterly destroyed Sunday afternoon when struck by a car driven by T. E. Murry of Ottawa just west of the Coal Hollow bridge. Meade was travelling west and after indicating a left turn off the pavement, started to swing south when the car was struck by Murry's car. The Meade auto was turned over, caught fire and was entirely destroyed. Meade was pitched through the windshield but escaped serious injuries, being only slightly cut and bruised.

COUNTY COURT BRIEFS.

Following orders were entered Monday morning by County Judge Horace R. Brown in the County court:

Approved the final report of the administrator of the estate of Adeline S. Bruce, deceased. Entries of appearance of all parties in interest consenting the report be approved, and administrator discharged. Entered an order directing the administrator of the estate of George Albert Werner deceased to execute and deliver a deed for 100 acres of land in Hall township to H. U. Bailey. The decedent had entered into a contract for the sale of the land to Mr. Bailey prior to his death, and the order was for the purpose of authorizing the administrator to carry out the contract. The purchase price was $12,500.

Approved the payment of $402.56 inheritance tax in the estate of Barbara E. Page, deceased.

Approved the report of Wm. M. Russell, guardian of the estate of Viola Ray, minor heir of Lester J. Ray, deceased.

News of Interest to Community Farmers

FORGED CHECKS BEING PASSED AMONG FARMERS

Warnings of Racket Issued Following Rustlers' Drive

Springfield, Ill., May 19.—(AP)—The Bureau of Criminal Investigation and Identification warns Illinois farmers the drive against cattle rustlers has turned criminals into the bad check racket which it was reported was spreading rapidly.

At the same time, Chief T. P. Sullivan said the bureau was making progress in its search for a method of marking cattle that would prevent theft by either rustling or a confidence game.

"As a result of the successful drive on nearly all branches of crime, thieves of all sorts are turning to bad checks," Sullivan said. "This has resulted in a new wave of this type of crime which is sweeping the state."

"It has been particularly directed at farmers since we have reduced rustling."

The bureau explained the procedure of the thieves in their new method of stealing cattle and other livestock was to represent themselves as independent cattle buyers, write a bad check and hurry away with the cattle.

"The farmers are accustomed to doing business with the independent buyers and accept the checks without investigating," it was explained. "The next thing, the police find the cattle truck abandoned and the farmer is the victim of a several hundred dollar swindle."

To Remove Buyers
The search for a new marking system for cattle, Sullivan said, was aimed at halting thefts by removing the buyer of the stolen beef.

"If we can make it so tough the thieves will have no market for their stolen cattle we can halt the thefts regardless of the method used," he explained.

The bureau head said branding was not successful because the thieves skin the cattle immediately after their getaway, leaving the identification of the stock behind with the skin.

"What we need is something similar to the method of tattooing chickens under the wing. Then when we find a meat where that part is cut away from several birds we have a lead, which if followed usually results in a arrest for selling stolen property."

GUY BOROP COW HERD PRODUCED 1247 LBS. MILK

The association average for the month was 712 pounds of milk and 27.8 pounds of butterfat. There were 251 cows on test from 26 herds, 17 of the 251 cows were dry, 44 cows each produced over 40 pounds of fat. Four of the 2 separators tested were losing over .05 fat.

Guy Borop had high herd with his herd of Purebred and Grade Holsteins, averaging 1247 pounds milk and 41.1 pounds of butterfat. There were no dry cows. A ration containing corn, oats, and soybeans was fed with corn silage and alfalfa hay.

E. F. Erbes' herd of 11 Purebred and Grade Jerseys was second with an average of 670 pounds of milk and 38.9 pounds of butterfat. Corn, oats, and soybean meal was the ration fed. There were no dry cows.

Third high herd was Short & Johnson, 10 head of Purebred Holsteins with an average production of 1160 pounds of milk and 38.3 pounds of fat. There were no dry cows.

Fourth high herd was Ben Albrecht & Son, 7 head of Purebred and Grade Guernseys with an average production of 765 pounds of milk and 38.0 pounds of fat. There were no dry cows.

Fifth high herd was Loren Hoge's 8 head of Purebred Holsteins averaging 956 pounds of milk and 37.7 pounds of fat. There were no dry cows.

The following cows each produced over 50 pounds of fat during the month of April.

A Purebred Brown Swiss, owned by Gonigam & Gonigam produced 1464 pounds of milk and 76.1 pounds of butterfat.

A Purebred Holstein owned by Loren Hoge with 1479 pounds of milk and 72.5 pounds of butterfat. A Purebred Holstein owned by Short & Johnson with 1650 pounds of milk and 54.3 pounds of butterfat.

A Purebred Guernsey owned by Ben Albrecht & Son with 1017 pounds of milk and 53.2 pounds of butterfat.

There were 7 cows sold for dairy purposes during the month and 3 cows were sold for low production.

BACK TO FARM MOVEMENT IS ON INCREASE

Aberdeen Assassin Starts Comeback Beating Vallas

Urbana, Ill., May 19.—Of each 1,000 farm operators in Illinois last year, 445 were tenants, 8 managers, 172 part owners and 375 full owners, according to Illinois Farm Economics, a monthly publication of the department of agricultural economics, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois. "Trends in recent years, particularly since 1930, point toward an increase in acreage and number of tenant farms of part owners," the circular stated.

Of each 1,000 acres of Illinois farm land tenants operated 491 acres, managers 15, part owners 211 and full owners 283. Of the 211 acres operated by part owners, it is estimated that about 101 acres were rented and 110 acres owned, so that for the state a total of about 595 acres in each 1,000 were rented and 393 acres operated by owners.

$9.536 Average Value
The average value of land and buildings was $9,536 a farm, or $69.67 an acre. The highest percentage of tenancy were in counties where the real estate values were relatively high, with operating ownership predominating in sections of low real estate values.

Logan county had the highest percentages of farms operated by tenants in 1935 with 67.1 per cent. Ford had 66.4 per cent, Alexander 66, Grundy 64.2, Platt 63.4, Livingston 63.3, McLean 61.0, DeWitt and Mason 60.3 and Champaign 60.1. Of these ten counties all but one were located in the central and upper section of the state.

More than 30 per cent of the farms were operated by part owners in Jasper, Effingham, Clay, Richard, Wayne, Hamilton, Edwards and Perry counties.

Full owners operated 50 per cent or more of the farms in two counties in northwestern Illinois, Jo Daviess and Rock Island, and in eight southern counties, Calhoun, Hardin, Johnson, Massac, Pope, Saline, Union and Williamson.

In nine counties full owners are reported to be operating less than 25 per cent of the farms. They are Logan 20.4 per cent, Platt 20.5, Mason 21.3, Putnam 22, Ford 22.4, Champaign 22.6, Livingston 23, Alexander 23.8 and Grundy 23.9.

Getting Some Place

By CLARENCE W. FACKLER, Ph.D.,
Assistant Professor of Economics,
New York University

One point of difference between much of the talkativeness of the day and the music comes out of some place. It is too bad that some of our well-intentioned arm-swingers don't get up quite enough steam to say right out that the fundamental duty of government is to eliminate conflicting interests, not to create them. These well-meaning fellows might realize that the industry should produce and sell more and more bountifully at low prices, rather than meagerly at high prices.

Political and industrial democracy can have no other basic objectives than these. Friction, exploitation of people, and suppression of liberties are abolished by voluntary cooperation and economic abundance. If political and industrial leaders are really in earnest about preventing the uniformed Dark Shirts of Europe from transplanting their purging culture, regimented militarism, and high-pressure philosophies to American shores, they will employ intelligent action rather than persuasive words. Sore spots will not heal if they are picked at incessantly. Much was said in 1933 and 1934 about cooperation between business and government, but so far harmony has not appeared. A large idle productive capacity, eleven million laborers unemployed, twenty million on relief, numerous strikes, burdensome taxes, and a country crying for more production, indicate that the "do-nothing" and "do-the-wrong-thing" policies are still followed.

Liberalism is confused with fantastic experimentation. More government dictation, more competition with business, and more taxes have brought about only additional complaints and considerable discord. The remedies offered are the old prescriptions—more interference and additional levies. There may be some political advantage in trying to explain how a heavy tax on the undivided profits of corporations would raise stock prices and re-distribute wealth, but how quickly would such a levy curtail production and weaken the resistance of business in times of depression? A booming, inflationary stock market now is scarcely a more reliable indicator of a robust industrial life than it was in the pre-crash days of 1929-1930.

You can divide up wealth as it was done in the French and Russian revolutions but is not the desirable method to diffuse the enjoyment of the products of industry by a fuller employment of labor and capital? Americans are really not clamoring for a level distribution of the legal titles to the means of production. They want merely more satisfying diets, more to wear, and better houses in which to live. They want to advance materially. More interested are they in consumer goods than in producers' goods. They know that owners of productive capital are not their own masters, but are as much restricted by adverse legislation and by changing customs as labor is by the directions and mis-directions of employers. It is the unemployed laborers and capitalists, who, being nearer the border line of starvation, are more inclined to be revolutionary.

Why then should representatives of government, capital, and labor, bickering over a $15 or $20 weekly wage scale, be content to argue about how much lower or higher the American level of living is in 1936 than in 1776? Must they always ride backwheels in the coaches of time and admire the scenery that has passed?

The job is to eliminate physical cruelty and economic waste from selfish clashes to gain power, prestige, and wealth. Politics does not do its part by taking funds from taxpayers to give to farmers and silver producers, or by competing in some 250 fields with private business, or by passing laws which restrict production and raise prices, or by calling names—"money-changers," "bribe," and "destructive critics." Industry avoids its responsibilities, likewise, by insisting on high and rigid prices. Labor shirks its responsibility by listening too much to the exploded fallacies of fascism and communism.

Plans, if they are to come out some place, must be expansive and conciliatory, not repressive and aggravating.

FARM MACHINES BEING SOLD AT GREAT DEMAND

Agricultural Prosperity Returning Signs Show

Avery Power Machinery Company of Peoria, Ill., manufacturers of Combines, Threshers and the famous Avery Guaranteed Cylinder Teeth, report a bright outlook for the sale of their products this year. Last year, Avery said all the machines they manufactured long before the season ended; and with better agricultural conditions this year, it is expected the larger production scheduled will just about take care of the demand.

A few years ago, Avery started the farm machinery industry by inaugurating a new plan of selling. The first step in the new program eliminated branch houses. This meant a big savings in sales expense and the lower prices. Avery was able to make farmers reflect the savings. Another point in the new plan was the bringing of local dealers closer to head quarters by making the local dealer a direct factory representative, rather than a man or organization, or a branch traveler.

BROODER HOUSES SELL RAPIDLY

Here is an item that is interesting: The Triumph Co-Operative Co. this past winter and spring made and sold 37 brooder houses which is something that is worth mentioning. That is a lot of houses but they make these brooders during the winter and spring. The men who are employed put in their spare time making these houses and after they have made a few they know exactly how to cut up the lumber and they go up fast. The farmers are well pleased with these brooder houses and they sell them even over in Lee and Bureau counties. Mr. Louis Seiling, the manager of the Triumph Co-Operative Co., is quite enthusiastic over having a fair in Mendota this fall for he wants to exhibit one of these brooder houses they make and not only that he believes there ought to be a fair for the benefit of the entire community. Seiling is a live wire man as manager.

Traveling Around America

PAINTED PIGS AND OPALS

TRAVELERS with a weakness for shops should give Mexico a wide berth—for tempters there run the gamut from painted pigs to opals and saddles. Every district has its specialties but the toy pig seems common to them all. In city shops as well as village markets one finds these pigs—pigs painted in every hue and even striped like zebras; pigs large and pigs small; pigs weighted to hold open doors and pigs slit so they may catch coopers. And it's more likely than not they're the first thing this customs inspector will see when he looks over the baggage of passengers returning from the fortnightly rail-water trips to the Spanish America and Mexico City.

FAT STOCK, DAIRY JUDGING CONTEST

By Robert Folkers, reporter
The fat stock and dairy judging contest was held at Freeport, May 14, 1936 at the Ravleigh Farms. The Dixon dairy team consisted of John Mensch, Robert Williams, Glenn Heckman, Alvin Harden and Lyle Weidman.

The Dixon fat stock team consisted of Dwight Harris, Glenn Coleman, Steven Beria, Leroy Dunphy and Robert Folkers. In the combined scores for the two teams entered, Dixon was awarded fourth place among the twenty-four high schools entered in this judging contest.

The total points scored by all teams of northern Illinois entered during the year were tabulated and ranked as follows for the first eleven placings: Dakota 6894, Amboy 6972, Lena 6988, Lanark 6667, Sterling 5561, Polo 6531, Ashton 6528, Prophetstown 6514, Milledgeville 6443, Rochelle 6431 and Dixon 6380.

Dixon Chapter's Kittenball team played Amboy Chapter's team Amboy winning 15 to 6.

PLANS DRIVE TO DESTROY WEEDS

Township weed commissioners, the weed committee of DeKalb County Farm Bureau and the agricultural committee of the DeKalb County Board of Supervisors met for an afternoon session at the Fargo hotel in Sycamore on Monday, to make plans for an extensive weed eradication program in the county this year. The meeting was called at the suggestion of the farm bureau weed committee and the agricultural committee of the board of supervisors.

Lee Mosher, chairman of the farm bureau weed committee, gave a short talk in which he explained the interest of the Farm Bureau organization in the work, and Mr. Dole, chairman of the supervisors committee, pledged the cooperation.

SEVERE WINTER KILLED TREES

Peach Crop Around Mendota Ruined By Icy Blasts

The intense cold weather this past winter has killed many trees. Just this week George Hotchkiss Sr., residing five miles east of Mendota, reported that his entire peach orchard had been killed. He would not have taken $25 for some of those trees for they were very productive and produced such nice, large and good tasting peaches. It is possible that there may be sprouts come up from the roots of the trees and in three or four years will again be producing just the same quality peach as the former tree did. Mr. Hotchkiss was planning on planting some young peach trees to take the place of those killed by the intense cold weather.

Then again many other trees and shrubs as well as rose bushes and grape vines have been killed which is causing much complaint in all parts of the country and cities. From all appearances there will not be near as many grapes on sale this coming fall.

Many people have grubbed out their shrubbery and are hopeful that it will come up from the root again.

The question comes up now just why did we have such a severe winter? What was accomplished by the intense cold for weeks and weeks? Perhaps people were producing too much fruit and this was done to cut down the surplus.

2,354 Farms Counted In DeKalb County

There were 2,354 farms in DeKalb county in 1935, according to the United States census of agriculture, recently completed for the year 1935. Several other interesting facts about the county:

Approximate Land Area 474,880 acres.
Average size of farms 173.8 acres.
All land in farms Jan. 1, 1935 437,789 acres.
Value of farms Land and Buildings $36,585,370.

VISIBLE GRAIN SUPPLY

New York, May 19.—(AP)—The visible supply of American grain shows the following changes in bushels: wheat decreased 2,986,000; corn decreased 410,000; oats decreased 1,016,000; rye decreased 275,000; barley increased 5,000.

Polo Aggie Class Planting Corn on Special Ground

Polo, Ill., May 19.—Boys of Polo community high school vocational agricultural classes are busy at present preparing ground and planting corn on new experimental plots. This is a class enterprise which will call for careful observation and study by the boys who participate.

Seven different species of hybrid seed corn and one open-pollinated variety will be planted. The hybrid seed has been secured from Illinois, Wisconsin and Iowa. The boys will carefully check the yields from the various plots and observe the other necessary qualities which each shows, to find the kind best adapted to Illinois soil of this locality.

CORN PLANTING COMMENCED IN COUNTY FIELDS

Lee Farmers Starting Later Than Usual To Avoid Cold

Corn planters hummed throughout Lee county today continuing the annual spring sowing begun late last week.

Planting is being done later than usual owing to the desires of farmers for continuous favorable weather after the corn is planted to give uncertain seed corn every advantage.

Early planted corn is usually handicapped by a heavy growth of weeds before the corn gets a start, especially in fields where weeds are unusually bad. A spell of cold, wet weather makes matters even worse, heavy rains generally coming in June.

More Corn Stalks Burned
More corn stalks and soy beans vines have been burned in the fields this spring in Lee county than in many years past. The principal reason given is a desire to destroy possible chinch bugs and any other insects that may be hiding in this litter.

The practice of burning corn stalks was abandoned years ago because it reduces the fertility of the soil and even now the practice is not popular with most farmers except in extreme cases. Much ado is being made about soil conservation nowadays and farmers expect to be paid for approved soil building practices on their farms.

The soil is the farmers' manufacturing plant and its intelligent management is the best best of any farmer. The soil represents the farmers' main capital stock and should be so considered by every Lee county land owner.

Lee County Boasts 2,519 Farms, Census Reveals This Week

Lee County has 2,519 farms, according to the United States Census of Agriculture made recently for the year 1935. Other interesting facts about the county:

FRANK PRIEBE'S WEEKLY LETTER to POULTRY RAISERS

One day we were wearing overcoats and the next day we were working in our shirt sleeves. Summer had arrived! It's not long after the thermometer gets into the 80's until we hear a lot of buyers complaining about the quality of eggs.

Warm weather always seems to surprise a good many people with their egg case still on the back porch!

The back porch, of course, is no place for eggs! And neither is the kitchen! They should be kept down cellar where it's cool. People who make a point of cooling eggs properly in the summer time often forget that it's quite as necessary in May, especially when it's as warm in May as it is in mid-summer.

In the spring, when the weather is cool, it's much easier to keep eggs fresh and the proper care does not make as noticeable a difference in the quality as it will from now on.

Shell Is Only a Container

I have often wished that egg shells were transparent.

I am sure that if a person could see the changes heat makes in eggs, no one would need to be reminded that they should be cooled quickly.

The shell of an egg is only the container. It does not protect the contents any more than a milk pail protects the milk that is in it. Like fresh milk, new laid eggs are warm. It is important to get the animal heat out of them as soon as possible.

You wouldn't let a pail of warm milk stand in the barn all day. Neither should warm eggs be left in the nest all day long. They should be gathered two or three times a day and, like the milk, cooled immediately.

Eggs Should be Cooled Quickly
If you put them into the case while they are still warm, the air has no chance to reach them. It's just like putting them into a fireless cooker. The heat is held right inside and the eggs lose freshness fast.

The best thing to do is to take them down cellar and leave them in a wire basket or spread them out in a shallow box so the air can get to them and let them stand over night. By morning they will be cool and you can put them in the case.

If you have ever been in a produce house when they opened the door of their cooler and felt the rush of cold air, you realize that the best place you have to keep eggs on the farm can't be compared to these coolers where the temperature is 30 F. So the sooner you can get your eggs to the produce house after they have been laid, the better.

Fresh eggs ought to be delivered as often as sweet cream—at least twice a week.

You go to town that often, anyway, don't you? Then take your eggs along! And in the meantime, keep them cool. The calendar may say it's only May, but, according to the thermometer, it's summer!

Sincerely yours,

Frank Priebe

REPUBLICANS IN QUANDARY AS CON- VENTION NEARS

Face Problem in Their Selection of National Delegates

Springfield, Ill., May 19.—(AP)—Republicans today faced the problem of deciding which party leaders, out of the long list of possibilities, would be sent to the national convention at Cleveland as delegates-at-large.

Illinois will have eight "at large" votes, with the delegates to be named by the GOP state convention at Peoria Friday.

Selection of several men is regarded as certain in political circles.

Former Governor Frank O. Lowden must be in the Illinois delegation if he is to help draft the Republican plank on the farm problem. Selection of Lowden for that work was announced yesterday by the party's western headquarters at Chicago.

The nominees for governor and senator, C. Wayland Brooks and Otis F. Glenn, also are slated to be delegates-at-large, but Republican spokesmen have said it is probable that there will be room for other nominees, to say nothing of defeated candidates.

Hayes Is Likely

Edward A. Hayes, campaign manager for Col. Frank Knox of Chicago, also is expected to be made a member of the Illinois delegation, so that he can be on the floor of the Cleveland convention when the presidential candidate is nominated.

National Republican leaders discourage the practice of fractional voting by delegates-at-large, although Illinois might be permitted to have 16 such delegates, each with half a vote. The Democrats named 32 at large delegates, each with a quarter vote.

Practice has been to divide the honors between Cook county and Dale county. One N. Custer of Galesburg is one of the Republicans slated to go on the delegation.

Those elected at the primary as district delegates include such prominent figures as former Governor Louis L. Emmerson, national Committeeman Frank L. Smith and George F. Harding of Chicago, who seeks to replace Smith.

Justus L. Johnson of Aurora, former state chairman, has launched a campaign to go to Cleveland as a delegate at large.

POETS' CORNER

"THINK ON THESE THINGS"

Lulu A. Reid

Whatever things are lovely,
Whatever things are true,
Keep your minds so filled with these things

That no harm can come to you.

Whatever things are honest,
Whatever things are just,
Fill, oh, fill your thought with
these things:

Think on them and calmly trust.

Things of good report consider,
Cherish what is good and pure;
Holy thought are life and substance,

Sins they heal and ill they cure.
If your minds are filled with these things,

Error can no lodgment find;
And God's love will thus be blessing

You and yours, and all mankind.

So, if there be any virtue,
If there be any praise,
Fill your consciousness with these things

And thus be at peace always.

"EARLY FEEDING BEST FOR LAWNS"

—MASTER GARDENER

"By far the most profitable time to give your grass a square meal is early spring, just as soon as frost is out of the ground."

"Feeding at this time gives your grass a big head-start over weeds, which don't begin to grow till later. When they do start up, they find mighty little room, and lots of them are choked out!"

"But," adds the Master Gardener, "by a 'square meal' I don't mean manures or bone meal or sewage fertilizers. They supply only two or three of the eleven food elements growing things need from the soil. I'd advise you to use VIGORO, because it provides all eleven in balanced proportions."

Vigoro is sanitary, odorless, easy to apply. Economical, because

12,000 TURKEYS HATCHED OUT AT MITCHELL FARM

Hatchery and Range East of City is Busy
Place

Tom Mitchell and Frank Adams of this city are operating one of the largest turkey farms in northern Illinois this season on the Patterson farm east of Dixon, where 12,000 poult are hatched this spring. Three thousand birds have been hatched and are now growing on the farm, while an equal number of poult have been hatched and sold to other raisers in this section. Some of these poult have been shipped to raisers in New York state.

Mitchell & Adams expected to raise a total of 12,000 poult this spring of the bronze and Narragansett varieties of turkeys, which are the most desirable for marketing purposes. All of the eggs for these hatchings are shipped from California breeding farms and are all from pure bred stock. The first hatching was taken off on April 4 and these birds now average about three pounds apiece. The poult are shipped to raisers from the Dixon farm when but one day old. None of the eggs from which the poult are hatched are the product of the local farm.

The farm has been thoroughly equipped with feeding and breeding platforms and is entirely electrically equipped for the pumping of pure water for drinking purposes and the electric lighting of the brooder houses, making it a model farm from every standpoint. More than 30 acres will be used to range the young birds, which are assembled in movable pens and are transferred to new ranges every ten days. The fences are high enough to prevent dogs from entering the pens and destroying the young turkeys and a careful watch is kept throughout the year against disease, pests and thievery.

As soon as the poult are old enough they are placed on range, feeding on alfalfa, rape and soy beans. Specially prepared food is also fed throughout the entire season to assure uniformity in size and structure and to provide a type of meat that is in demand on the most exacting markets. The raisers expect to have no less than 3,000 birds ready for the Thanksgiving trade and 2,000 more will be in readiness for Christmas and New Year's. The average weight of turkeys for the Thanksgiving trade will be about 17 pounds and these have been selected from the first hatching of eggs. Some of the birds will weigh as much as 20 pounds, however.

Mr. Mitchell has been one of northern Illinois' foremost turkey raisers for the past six years and this season his flock will be the largest of any raiser in this section of the state.

Federal Law Governing Firearms Registration Held Valid

East St. Louis, Ill., May 19—(AP)—The Federal firearms act, requiring registration of machine guns, sawed-off shotguns and other such weapons, was held constitutional by Federal District Judge Fred L. Wham in a ruling given here in the case of Max Sonzinsky, second-hand store proprietor.
Judge Wham upheld the act yesterday in overruling a demurrer in which Sonzinsky's counsel argued that "while pretending to be a revenue act" the legislation actually "dealt with a police matter properly in the province of the states."

"I don't believe the court can say Congress can't levy an excise tax," Judge Wham said. "It can act only if Congress acts unreasonably."
Sonzinsky, indicated on four counts under the act, was ordered to trial, and a jury returned a verdict of guilty after only 10 minutes of deliberation. Sentence was deferred pending an appeal.

Interest in Local Fight
Interest, however, was centered more in the so-called "Jersey Justice" fight between Gov. Harold G. Hoffman and Franklin W. Fort than in the presidential voting.
Although Fort, charging the governor unfit to represent the party because of his intervention in the Hauptmann case, made the fight to keep Hoffman out, both may be elected delegates.
Both parties are nominating candidates for the United States Senate, 14 seats in the House of Representatives, seven in the state Senate and all 60 in the state assembly.

JERSEY JUSTICE ISSUE IN POLL

Overshadows Landon-Borah Battle for Endorsement

Newark, N. J., May 19—(AP)—The New Jersey primaries today brought Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas opposite Sen. William E. Borah of Idaho in their first statewide contest for Republican presidential preference.
Landon was supported by the state Republican organization.
President Roosevelt was assured all 32 convention votes in the Democratic primary because the state organization's slate was unopposed.
All five candidates for four places as delegates-at-large to the Republican convention are pledged to Landon. There are Landon candidates in 13 of the 14 congressional districts. There are Borah candidates in 11 districts.
Friends have entered both in the preferential primary but the outcome will not be binding on the delegates. In the Democratic preferential primary Col. Henry Breckinridge, legal adviser to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, as the sole entrant, can be beaten only by a write-in vote.

LOWDEN LIKELY WRITER OF GOP FARM PROPOSALS

Former Governor Endorsed by Hoover and Chairman

Chicago, May 19—(AP)—The Republican party may adopt a farm plank similar to the present soil conservation act, but with heavier emphasis on state control, at their national convention in Cleveland next month.
Such a possibility was seen today if the plank is written by former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, as proposed yesterday by former President Herbert Hoover and by Harrison Spangler, director of the Republican national committee's western headquarters here.

Lowden put forward such a plan last January 25, in an interview with the Associated Press at his Mississippi farm near Oregon, Ill. His plan in brief was for the federal government to make grants to the state, the states in turn to pay bounties to the farmers for removing from 25 to 30 per cent of their land from production. The retired acres would be planted, as under the present act, in soil conserving legumes, with the purpose of combating erosion and over-cropping.

To insure that control would be vested in the states, rather than in the federal government, the money would be expended under the supervision of the state colleges of agriculture. Lowden believed this would meet the requirements of the Supreme Court's AAA ruling, which held agricultural production to be a "purely local activity."

LEFTY GROVE WINS RESPECT FOR SOX TEAM

Was Considered a Has-Been Only 2 Years Ago

BY ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
Robert Moses Grove is throwing bigger and better surprise parties every time he takes the mound for the Boston Red Sox.

Two years ago the lanky south-paw, pitching his first season for Boston, was considered through when he just managed to break even in 16 games. Last year, however, he set at rest reports that his arm had gone dead by turning in the best earned run average of 2.70 in the American league.

He turned in one of his best performances of the year yesterday in blanking the White Sox 2-0 with four hits, for his seventh victory and fourth shutout of the season. His only defeat came at Washington, where he has been beaten 13 times.

Record Impressive
Here's how Grove's record looked after he had nosed out Vernon Kennedy in a pitching duel: innings pitched 65; opponents' runs, 8; earned runs, 6; hits 42; strikeouts 34, and bases on balls, 8.

Grove needed all of his speed and cunning against the White Sox for Kennedy, who pitched a no-hit game against the Indians last year, limited Tom Yawkey's "millionaires" to five hits and held them away from the plate after the first inning.

The performance of Grove was the high spot of the day, which saw Alvin Crowder, appearing in his second game of the season and his first since April 22, hold the Senators to five hits while the Tigers pounded out a 7-1 decision and Carl Hubbell checked the Pirates to give the Giants their eighth straight victory.

Hubbell was hit hard as the Giants took a 4-2 decision from the Pirates, but the screw-ball artist was effective with men on bases. The Pirates had men on in every inning except one while the Giants got only seven safe blows off John Tising and Cy Blanton.

The Cardinals managed to hold their half-game lead over the Giants but it took a great finish against the Phillies to get home in front, 11 to 6.

Carleton Adds to Success
Tex Carleton continued his success over the Bees as the Cubs took a 7-2 decision to go into a tie with the Pirates for third place. Holding the Bees to eight scattered hits, Carleton chalked up his 18th victory in 24 starts against the Bostonians since joining the major leagues in 1932.

The Cincinnati Reds made the most of their eleven blows off five hurlers to defeat the Brooklyn Dodgers 9 to 6 after getting away to a three-run lead in the first inning on Gilly Campbell's homer.

The Yankee-Indians and Athletics-Browns games were postponed because of rain.

BOLD VENTURE WILL REST FOR BELMONT RACE

Chicago, May 19.—(AP)—Bold Venture, winner of the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness, definitely was out of the $12,000 added Illinois Derby today, leaving the mile and a furlong event to be run Friday at Aurora a "wide open" affair.

Max Hirsch, trainer of the Morton L. Schwartz three-year-old, notified track officials that Bold Venture would be given a rest before starting in the Belmont Stakes at Belmont Park.

From three dozen other horses nominated, however, will come a field expected to make the stake, first major event of the long, rich Chicago racing season, a better than average affair. The fighter, the Milky Way farm's Texas Derby winner, may be established as the favorite, although Rushaway, winner of the Louisiana Derby, Hoil Image, winner of the Arkansas Derby, and Grand Slam, from the Bomar stable of Detroit, will draw much support.

Dnieper, second to Brevity in the Florida Derby, Reelion, from the Coward and Coffey stable, Split Second and Sangreal are other likely starters.

Hal Mohr, academy prize-winning movie cameraman, began his career as an amateur in San Francisco.

Actor Richard Cromwell is painting an oil portrait of Katharine Hepburn.

Shires Miller is Playing For West Plains, Missouri

Lloyd "Shires" Miller, it was reported today, is progressing satisfactorily in his left field position for the West Plains, Mo., baseball team, a farm club of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Shires, popular Dixon baseball player of past years, went to Springfield, Mo., in April where Cardinal rookie prospects were assembled for the spring training season. Cardinal pilots were impressed with Shires and are reported interested in his work for West Plains, a member of the Northeast Arkansas league.

KOCIS OPENS FIRE WITH PAR BREAKING GOLF

Michigan Opening Defense of Its Golf Crown

Chicago, May 19.—(AP)—Michigan's sharp-shooting quartet of Charles Kocis, Woody Malloy, Alben Saunders and Bill Barclay set out over the Kildeer Country club layout today to complete the job of winning the Big Ten's individual and team golf championships for the fifth year in a row.

The boys got away to a brilliant start yesterday, with Kocis leading the individual title race by four strokes over Malloy, and the Wolverines heading the team parade by 33 strokes over Northwestern. Only a total collapse, it appeared, could keep the Ann Arbor delegation from making its fifth sweep of honors.

Kocis, who won the individual crown in 1934, and lost it to his Walker Cup squad teammate, Johnny Fischer, after a great duel last year, broke out with dazzling 66, knocking four strokes from par, in his morning round. A gusty wind cooled him off in the afternoon, but he nevertheless finished with 73 for a 36 hole total of 139, one under par. He rattled off nine birdies during the day, six of them during his par-breaking opening round.

Two Good Rounds
Malloy put together rounds of 70 and 72 to take over second place with 142, and Saunders made it three places for Michigan with his 71-77-148.

Wilbur Kokes, Chicago public links star playing for Illinois, squeezed into fourth place with 71-78-149, but the fourth member of the Wolverine squad, Barclay, was closed up with 74-76-150, which gave him a share with John (Pick) Wagner of Northwestern, and Tom Connor of Wisconsin.

The Michigan team total, 579 strokes for 36 holes, was 33 under Northwestern's second place total of 612. Illinois was third with 622, and Minnesota had 627. Wisconsin had 630, one less than Ohio State, which was followed by Indiana 639, Iowa 639, Purdue 650 and Chicago, 671.

The remaining 36 holes were scheduled for today.

PATTY BERG IS ELIMINATED IN BRITISH MATCH

Southport, Eng., May 19.—(AP)—Three Americans advanced to the third round in the British Women's golf championship today. Charlotte Glutting, South Orange, N. J., Marion Miley, Lexington, Ky., and Mrs. Maureen Orcutt Crews, Coral Gables, Fla.

Miss Glutting won on the 21st hole from Miss Dorothy Pearson, former English closed champion, after being four down and four to go.

Miss Miley, driving superbly, had no trouble in beating Stella Franklin, 7 and 6, while Mrs. Crews also had things pretty much her own way in winning, 3 and 2, from Nell Forrest.

Patty Berg, the gallery favorite, the youngster from Minneapolis, was eliminated by the veteran Molly Gourlay, one up, when she went boldly for a long putt on the 18th and missed a four footer coming back.

Favorite Loses
Mrs. Leona Cheney, the favorite of the American team after the defeat of Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare yesterday, was defeated by Jean Hamilton, also on the last hole, one up.

Bridget Newell, the young harrier who has been the sensation of the tournament so far, eliminated Dianna Fishwick, the 1930 British women's champion, two up.

The biggest upset of the second round was the defeat of Mrs. J. B. Walker, of the British Curtis Cup team, by Mrs. Temple Dobell, who won the British women's championship in 1912. The former champion won the match one up.

The third round got under way after a short interval.

Terwilliger and Barbs Threaten Dixon's Four Year Conference Reign

DeKalb Dash Star Won 100 In :10 at State Meet

Schools of the North Central conference assemble at DeKalb, Saturday afternoon, for the annual track and field championships in which five of the schools will attempt to wrest the title from Dixon held by this city four consecutive years.

DeKalb will offer Dixon its greatest competition it is believed. Winning the district meet at Ottawa fairly easily, DeKalb qualified several men for the state meet at Champaign at which Bill Terwilliger, the Barbs' fleet dash man won the two yard dash in :10 seconds flat. He defeated such strong entrants as Hirsch, Oak Park, who took second, Emigh of Kankakee who got third, Walker of Englewood high who won fourth, and Monahan from York high of Elmhurst who took fifth. York high won the state championship.

Broke Two Records
Last year at the N. C. I. conference meet in Mendota, Terwilliger broke two dash records for the conference running the hundred in :10.1 and the 220 yard dash in :22.2 seconds. The Purple and White harriers nosed out DeKalb 50 to 45 in the classic last spring after trailing until Underwood's javelin throw of 170 '2" not only established a record but gave Dixon a substantial lead that the Barb relay team was unable to overcome even by making another record in 1:35.6 time.

The locals have been hampered by ineligibilities but it is hoped that by Saturday, Dunphy will be ready for the 880 yard run that Don and Lloyd Miller will be throwing the javelin and shot again, and that Hansen will be able to run in the hurdles.

High schools entered in the N. C. I. conference track and field championships of 1936 are Dixon, Sterling, DeKalb, Mendota, Rochelle, and Belvidere.

D. H. S. GOLF TEAM RAPS STERLING

Lindell Crew Plays Freeport, Rochelle During Week

Dixon high school's golfers handed Sterling Township high's links squad its second drubbing by a 33 to 2 score at Twin City Country club near Sterling Monday afternoon, twelve men playing on each team. The Purple and White won over Sterling here, Wednesday, May 6 at Plum Hollow.

Scoring was mediocre for both teams, the last few holes being played in deep dusk owing to the length of the course and the late start of the two teams.

The Lindell men will engage Freeport Thursday at Freeport and Rochelle-DeKalb at Rochelle Friday afternoon, the Freeport match having been postponed from Wednesday, May 13.

Following are the scores of the Dixon boys in the Sterling match:

150 GOLFERS ON DAWSON'S TRAIL AT KANSAS CITY

Kansas City, May 19.—(AP)—A field of more than 150 golfers faced the rather difficult task today of checking a sizzling hot Johnny Dawson of Chicago in what appeared to be a one-man parade to a Third Heart of America championship.

Dawson jumped into a six-stroke lead on the first 18 holes of the 72-hole medal play tournament yesterday with a sparkling 66, six strokes under par and a new Oakwood course record.

Grouped behind Dawson ready to take advantage of any slip were three Kansas City amateurs and a St. Louis sharpshooter, all with par 72's.

Gus Moreland, Peoria, Ill., still was considered a threat after posting a 74. He needed 40 putts on his 18-hole round, but the fact he was on every par five green in two indicated what he might do if his putts started dropping.

Following today's 18-hole round the field will be split into flights for the 36 holes which end the tournament tomorrow.

Two Dollar Fines For Reds Failing Sacrifice Plays
Cincinnati, May 19.—(AP)—It costs a Cincinnati Red pitcher $2 when he fails to sacrifice a teammate safely to second. It costs any batsman $2 if he fails to bring in a run when a teammate is on third base with one or no out.

Just to make the competition a bit more keen, the Reds have established their own pool on a modified basis from that operated by the St. Louis Cardinals.

A pitcher who moves a teammate along the base paths with a successful bunt will collect $2. Any Red who drives in a runner from third when there is one or none out will collect $2 from Manager Chuck Dressen.

If there is a surplus at the end of the season, the players plan to have a party.

LOUIS NEEDS NO BALLYHOO FOR MAX BOUT

Cash Customers in Rush To Obtain Choice Seats

By ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)
New York, May 19.—(AP)—Even if Max Schmeling has so much as a long-shot chance to tag Joe Louis in their forthcoming fistic party, there has been no concerted attempt to insist upon it in the preliminary ballyhoo for the year's biggest heavyweight offering.

What's more important, it does not appear necessary, from the box-office standpoint. The stage already has been reached in the phenomenal ring career of Louis where no particular stress needs to be put on the competitive side of the buildup. Like Jack Dempsey, the Brown Bomber has dynamic drawing power as a fistic soloist, no matter what the party of the second part produces.

With a full month remaining to picture Schmeling as showing all his old-time durability and punching prowess, the fact of vital interest to promoter Mike Jacobs is that the advance sale already is close to the half-million dollar mark. It is just about as certain as taxes that the gate receipts will aggregate $1,250,000 when Max and Joe square off under the lights of the Yankee Stadium, June 18.

Price Not Discouraging
Far from discouraging the cash customers, the $40 price for ring-side seats appears to have stimulated the flow of certified checks into the offices of the Twentieth Century Sporting Club. If the speculators can get their hands on anything choice within the next few weeks, they will double the price and probably collect it. Such is the hold that the Negro boy from Alabama has gained on the fistic following that the cost seems secondary to the desire to be a ringside eyewitness to his artistic ability.

Remembering so recent a case in point as Jimmy Braddock, the 12 to 1 shot who lifted the heavyweight crown from the curly head of Max Baer a year ago, there will be serious argument in favor of Schmeling's chances of springing a surprise. The German's endurance insists he will profit from the mistakes of others who face Louis. The mistake most of them made, however, was in getting into the same ring with the Bomber. Schmeling, who will collect 30 per cent of the gate receipts, can well afford to overlook this point.

Maxie Rosenbloom's Australian Trip Is Becoming a Fiasco

Los Angeles, May 19.—(AP)—Maxie Rosenbloom's one-man invasion of Australia's heavyweight ranks has developed everything except a fight.

Ambrose Palmer, original opponent selected for the ex-light heavyweight champion, announced his retirement from the ring after Slap-Maxie had boarded a boat for Melbourne. Leo Kelly was signed as a substitute, but Rosenbloom cabled Frank Bachman, his manager, here Monday that Kelly was sick, the bout postponed to June 1, and George Simpson named in his stead.

Meanwhile, Bachman said, Rosenbloom has investigated Australia's race tracks; become involved in some kind of legal tangle; looked into the cabinet situation—and cabled home regularly for more money.

The staff, working day and night shifts, has submitted 102,672 completed applications to the treasury department office here and is still receiving about 1,000 applications per day, he said.

The pact signed by the United States, Great Britain and France, which becomes effective January 1, was ratified yesterday without a record vote after two hours of debate.

The treaty limits the sizes of the signatories' guns and warcraft and provides for an exchange of information in naval construction programs.

While several Senators voiced disappointment over the treaty, there was no direct opposition to its ratification.

Senator Johnson (R-Calif.) declared the new agreement was "nothingness, complete," adding that it "will never bring about naval limitation because it is filled with escape clauses."

Abandonment of any of the treaty's provisions is permitted in case of war or in the event that non-signatory powers engage in excessive building activities.

Sewell Benched For Protesting Decision Monday

Chicago, May 19.—(AP)—Luke Sewell, Chicago White Sox catcher serving his 16th season in baseball, doesn't often become involved in serious disputes with umpires.

In yesterday's Sox-Boston game, however, Luke was chased by Umpire Johnston for protesting a decision on a pitch while at bat. Luke said today the banishment was only his fourth or fifth.

"That isn't much of a record to be proud of," Luke grinned. "But I'm a catcher, see?"

VERDICT ALL WET

Long Beach, Calif., May 19.—(AP)—Twas a fine spring day, and while a jury debated a damage case Superior Judge Frank G. Swain went for a swim in a lagoon across the street from the court building.

When a bailiff hailed him from the beach, quoth his honor: "The water's fine. Bring them down and I'll receive the verdict."

So, in dripping trunks instead of the customary black robe, Judge Swain accepted the verdict, dismissed the jury, and resumed his swim.

MONTH OF WORK AHEAD OF LAW- MAKING BODIES

Horner Sets Record in Number of Special Session Calls

Springfield, Ill., May 19.—(AP)—At least one more month of work apparently is ahead of the Illinois legislature, which tonight will convene the eighth special session called by Gov. Horner since he took office in 1933.

Predictions at the state house were that it would take most of June for the fourth special session to act again on the permanent registration issue and dispose of nearly a dozen other questions. The last three general assemblies have been called into special session twelve times to consider emergency problems. Horner has the record for eight special calls.

With law-making virtually a full-time job, the legislature has been working almost two-thirds of the time, counting the six-month regular sessions in odd-numbered years.

Hope to Speed Action.

The 59th general assembly is expected to adjourn the current second and fourth sessions sometime before July 1. House and senate leaders, waiting to see if action can be speeded up, have not predicted how long it might take to get decisive roll calls on the efforts of Republicans and Horner Democrats to enforce the permanent registration of Chicago voters.

More special sessions may be necessary later in the year, if the relief question bobs up again and if requests for school legislation are met.

The special sessions for the 59th general assembly started last October, with social security, relief and permanent registration the big issues and with a month's recess for the April primary campaign.

Only Two Rivals.

The 58th general assembly, during the first two years of the Horner administration, was marked by four special sessions, dealing with relief, liquor control, schools and sales tax extension.

Louis L. Emmerson, Horner's predecessor, had the previous record with five special sessions in four years, most of them dealing with relief and property tax delinquencies.

The late Len Small called three special sessions in two terms.

Available records show that few, if any, other states have had as many special sessions as Illinois during recent years. Publications of the council of state governments indicate that Louisiana and Texas have been the only rivals in this regard.

WHAT THE NEWS WAS AROUND DIXON IN YEARS GONE BY

50 Years Ago

The I. D. Appleford residence in North Dixon is undergoing extensive repairs.

On Monday last, William Moser, a farm hand of Palmyra was severely kicked by a horse on the Daniel Rikert farm from the effects of which he died last evening, aged 19 years.

Prof. N. D. Gilbert of DeKalb and L. W. Miller of Dixon addressed the gathering at Palmyra yesterday, appearing on the program which marked the dedication of a marker designating the location of the first school in the township.

Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Theresa C. Williams, former resident of Dixon at Los Angeles, Cal., May 15, aged 83.

HOOVER'S ONLY INTEREST IS IN SERIOUS ISSUES

Former President Not a Candidate He Says in Statement

Chicago, May 19.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover's assertion that he was "not a candidate," but solely concerned with placing "critical issues" before the nation turned attention toward the shaping of a Republican platform today.

The former president, in a formal statement issued here late yesterday, set forth:

"It should be evident by this time that I am not a candidate. I have stated many times that I have no interest but to get these critical issues before the country."

"And get one thing straight, I am not opposing any of the candidates. My concern is with principles."

Some observers linked Hoover's announcement that he opposed no aspirant to the party's presidential nomination with the recent California primary. There a slate of unopposed delegates supported by Hoover defeated a group carrying the banner of Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas.

Platform Discussions.
The pronouncement added speculation over the nature of the former president's conference with party leaders in Maryland. It said:

"My discussions with senators, congressmen and others who visited me from Washington over the week end related wholly to the Republican platform."

That document has also been a prime concern of Sen. William E. Borah, presidential contender. Avowedly seeking a liberal declaration of principles and repeatedly expressing opposition to the "old guard," the Idahoan has reserved the right to "look over the platform" and candidate approved at the Cleveland convention.

Hoover said former Gov. Frank O. Lowden of Illinois should be asked to write the agricultural plank for the convention.

Cooking Expert to Conduct Dixon Telegraph's School

MISS LUCILLE HARRIS

"Foods on Parade," 36 Edition, the cooking school of outstanding merit which has become known to housewives in the larger cities from coast to coast, is to be presented in Dixon under the auspices of the Telegraph at Schuler Hall for a four day program beginning June 2.

In keeping with its policy of giving the greatest service to the community the Telegraph is proud to offer its women readers an opportunity to attend the complete four-day program of this valuable school, which is as colorful and dramatic as a theatrical production and as instructive as a college course in home economics.

Every phase of meal planning, food buying and preparation is covered in this course, which will be presented by Miss Lucille Harris, home economics expert and noted lecturer on food subjects. She will prepare a total of 74 dishes during the four-day series, and for each dish a printed recipe will be given on the printed program of the day.

Teach to Buy, Cook Meat
A distinctive feature of this cooking school which makes it of special interest at this time is the attention paid to the cooking of meat dishes. With meat holding a place in the news of the day, every housewife will welcome information which will enable her to buy more thriftily and to prepare meat in the best possible way.

Many of the recipes call for the economical cuts of meat. Ways of preparing these less demanded cuts are shown, so that the food budget may be kept at even keel. Instructions are given in the latest and best way of cooking all meats, and suggestions for the use of leftovers, to avoid waste, and to make delicious dishes will occupy an important place on the program.

Clever Lecturer
Miss Harris is a member of the staff of the National Live Stock and Meat Board, an educational and research organization the aim of which is to bring to the practical housewife the result of the research work done in the laboratories of the leading universities, colleges and experiment stations of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Miss Harris is an experienced lecturer and her talks are as clever and entertaining as they are instructive. Moreover, she does what few speakers can do,—she "practices what she preaches," by showing every step in the preparation of each recipe from assembling the ingredients to presenting the finished product.

Dramatic Climax
A triumphal procession of "Foods on Parade" is the grand finale to each day's program when the dishes are dramatically presented, before mirrors, for the entire audience to see and admire,—and later to duplicate at home.

Miss Lucille Harris has Miss Ruth White as her assistant in the preparation and presentation of "Foods on Parade."

Keep in mind the dates of the cooking school, June 2 to June the 5th, and arrange your engagement calendar accordingly.

And so simply, the episode did end.

There were other things that Linda had to do that day toward setting her world in order. And putting the one important thing behind her, she busied herself writing checks to pay her bills. Then she telephoned Sybil Carlson, a young writer who had come to Hollywood a fortnight before.

"This is Linda Bourne, Miss Carlson," she said. "I heard you were looking for an apartment and I wondered if you would be interested in seeing mine. I'm going to take a vacation and I'd like to rent it."

Sybil came and fell in love with it. Could she have it quickly?

Feeling utterly mad, Linda told her she might have it as soon as she liked and didn't pause to question herself or her insane desire to be out of the place where she had been both happy and miserable. She wanted to be away from every association that would remind her of herself. She would like to take a half-bedroom somewhere and lose her identity.

Not that she had the faintest idea of doing anything of the kind. As usual, she intended to pursue the routine of her life in a new home environment. She went to her office that afternoon and found urgent summons to the office of Paul Leonhardt.

SOMETHING inside her did an elevator dive from throat to the pit of her stomach. She didn't really care what happened that day but summons to the producer's office brought a swift unpleasant thrill.

There was one last task she had to do that day. She had a note to write. Deliberately she avoided her apartment or her office. She didn't want to write it where she

TROOPS EXECUTE RIOTERS FOUND IN ADDIS ABABA

Selassie's Umbrella Carrier Shot For Espionage

(Copyright, 1936, by the AP)
Addis Ababa, May 17.—(By Military Plane to Asmara, Eritrea, May 18.—Murderers caught in the act of killing and looting, plunderers found prowling armed and bandits who refused to give up arms in accordance with a proclamation of material law have been executed after trials in the last few days as Italian authorities seek to calm swiftly the situation in this former Ethiopian capital.

After waiting a week for the scene to quiet itself, but with sporadic outbursts still prevalent, the authorities are following military law to the letter with fantastic scenes resulting.

Several journalists have left Addis Ababa already under compulsion, and more will follow.

Death of Marauders
As a result of the decisions of military tribunals, rifles and machine guns of carabinieri are hanging out sometimes at dusk, carrying out sentence of death for the marauders who burned and pillaged Addis Ababa in four days of rioting, resulting in more than 800 native deaths, before the Italians arrived May 5.

The latest to go before a firing squad was Balahu, giant former umbrella carrier for Haile Selassie and one of the tallest men in Ethiopia. The 7-foot 5-inch native was condemned by a military tribunal for "espionage and brigandage."

The newspapermen expelled are George Steer, correspondent for the London and New York Times, Isadore Nebezahl, a representative of the Havas (French) News agency, Alkeas Angelopoulos, a Hearst correspondent, and M. D. Bohlard, director of an Ethiopian newspaper.

More than 42 per cent of the total sales from farms are made during September, October and November.

Dogs are not the only animals that contract rabies. This disease has been discovered in cats, cattle, horses and swine.

FOLLY and FAREWELL

Let her utter; he wouldn't write to Thorne, he would ask him to come to his office and telephone the man while Linda was in his office. His invitation was a command, Thorne agreed to meet the lawyer at noon.

And so simply, the episode did end.

There were other things that Linda had to do that day toward setting her world in order. And putting the one important thing behind her, she busied herself writing checks to pay her bills. Then she telephoned Sybil Carlson, a young writer who had come to Hollywood a fortnight before.

"This is Linda Bourne, Miss Carlson," she said. "I heard you were looking for an apartment and I wondered if you would be interested in seeing mine. I'm going to take a vacation and I'd like to rent it."

Sybil came and fell in love with it. Could she have it quickly?

Feeling utterly mad, Linda told her she might have it as soon as she liked and didn't pause to question herself or her insane desire to be out of the place where she had been both happy and miserable. She wanted to be away from every association that would remind her of herself. She would like to take a half-bedroom somewhere and lose her identity.

Not that she had the faintest idea of doing anything of the kind. As usual, she intended to pursue the routine of her life in a new home environment. She went to her office that afternoon and found urgent summons to the office of Paul Leonhardt.

SOMETHING inside her did an elevator dive from throat to the pit of her stomach. She didn't really care what happened that day but summons to the producer's office brought a swift unpleasant thrill.

She smiled at someone on her way to Leonhardt's office; she didn't know whom. She opened the door softly with a cold little hand. And then she was inside and Leonhardt was talking to her. . . . Three hundred more a week . . . hope it will be satisfactory . . . appreciate your services . . . policy of retrenchment makes it impossible to give you more . . . There was more but it was enough for her to realize that Commonwealth was renewing her contract for two years. It wasn't happiness that she felt, it was relief. Happiness was something that she never hoped to experience again. But at least she still had her chance to go on working and working, forgetting.

There was one last task she had to do that day. She had a note to write. Deliberately she avoided her apartment or her office. She didn't want to write it where she could let go. She chose no less bright, popular spot than the Brown Derby at cocktail time where she pushed aside the silver teapot and drawing a pen and pad from her purse she wrote:

Dear Dix, I do not feel the need of any explanation here and I am sure you do not require it. We do not love each other any more. More than that, there is nothing to say. Let's forget yesterday with our plans for tomorrow to be spent together. I am happy for both of us that we have learned now. Do not feel that you have failed me or that I have failed you. Let's only remember that once we were happy and that I sincerely hope that the tomorrows I will not—and cannot—share with you will be filled with all the things that will make you happy. This is my farewell.

—Sincerely, Linda.

She read and folded it, slipped it in an envelope and sealed it. Then she gave it to the waiter to post and asked for hot tea.

SHE waved gaily to some people she knew. Joined two of them for a few moments and then left in the twilight wondering if all her life she was to walk into twilight as lonely as this one.

She walked aimlessly along Vine Street and turned into Hollywood Boulevard. Her unseeing eyes strayed from shop window to shop window.

"Missy, this is the last bunch." An old woman thrust a wilted bunch of violets almost into her face. Their fresh, sweet scent rose to her nostrils. She took them in both her hands for a minute and gave the old woman a dollar.

She stood there for a moment looking at the violets and thinking of Pete. Pete had loved her! She had to know if he still did!

REVISED TAXES
PLAN TO BRING IN LARGE SUMS

$173,000,000 Would Come From Income
Taxes Alone

Washington, May 18.—(AP)—The treasury estimated today that the latest compromise tax plan of the Senate finance committee would produce $642,000,000 of which $173,000,000 would come from individual income tax payers.

Indicative however of the fact that the committee still is groping for an agreement on how to rewrite the tax bill as it passed the house, were requests for additional estimates on other ways of raising the $623,000,000 of permanent revenue sought by the president.

Chairman Harrison (D-Miss.) named three subcommittees, to report Wednesday morning on the "windfall" tax feature of the measure, on a provision for refunds on floor stocks on hand at the time of invalidation of the AAA, and on "the question of insurance that might be applied to pay the government's taxes."

Recess Until Wednesday.

The committee planned no further sessions until Wednesday.

In the face of the delay in reaching an agreement on the tax controversy, word was passed in responsible Capitol hill sources today that President Roosevelt considered tax legislation essential and believed Congress should stay in session until a bill goes on the statute books.

The treasury, Harrison told newsmen, handed over figures today to show also that by retaining permanently the present excess profits and capital stock taxes, which would be kept only temporarily and at half rates under the House bill, $168,000,000 of annual revenue would be produced.

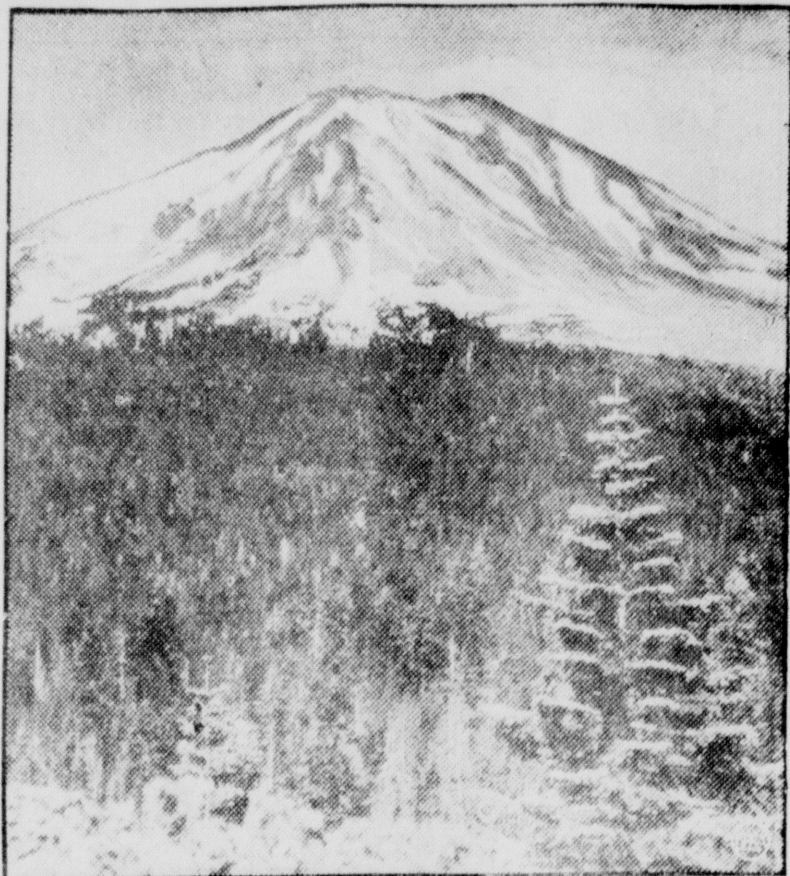

Compromise Plan.

In addition, the treasury estimated that $107,000,000 in additional income would be brought in by putting a 35 per cent tax on undistributed corporate income in excess of half of total income.

The compromise tax plan would place an 18 per cent tax on corporations' statutory net income, which the treasury said would yield $244,000,000, a 7 per cent tax on undistributed adjusted net income which would produce $255,000,000, and increase the present normal income tax from 4 to 5 per cent, which would bring $173,000,000.

Corporation dividends to stockholders would be subjected to the latter tax, from which they now are exempt, and this alone, Harrison said, would account for $112,000,000 of the $173,000,000.

American Volcano Stirs Again

With Mount Lassen, above, reported to be rumbling in menacing tone and spouting steam, American tourists now may see an active volcano that is strictly a home product. Located in northern California, near Red Bluff, Mount Lassen has been erupting periodically for ages. Nearly a century ago, a great blast gouged out the huge depression shown at the right of the snow-streaked mountain. And, as recently as 1916, the volcano spewed lava and mud, and destroyed much of the timber that surrounds its base.

DAILY HEALTH

Nerves And The Man

When the medical student is taught the rudiments of his profession, he is confronted with a sort of stereotyped creature known as man. But when he turns to actual practice, he finds that men differ, not only in body patterns, but in physiology.

Hippocrates described four types of men, and today numerous clinicians are convinced that body structure, physiologic performance and disease susceptibility vary with constitutional types. These types are classified according to body dimensions and nervous behavior. Nerves make and can unmake the man.

Dr. George Draper has shown that the ulcer patient is of a different mold than the patient with a gallbladder lesion. Where the "gallbladder individual" is commonly of a stock build, the "peptic ulcer individual" is usually angular in body and dynamic in movement and behavior. He works under tension with vigor and enthusiasm. He is fully conscious of his responsibility, but is usually reticent to the unfolding of his difficulties and anxieties.

The realization that "nerves make the man" sets, however, for more than the making of pat phrases. It allows protection of the individual, in a measure at least, against threatening disaster. For if the individual is guided so that he stays within the limits of his constitution, and avoids the indicated hazards, he may enjoy better health than if he proceeds recklessly and helplessly.

Again, this realization helps in treating patients effectively. Thus in the case of the peptic ulcer type, psychotherapy, which helps the patient to steer through, say a besetting mental crisis, may prove more valuable in hastening recovery than dietary or surgical treatment.

REMOVES CHAIRS

Lansing, Kas., May 19.—(AP)—"Guards can not perform their duties properly sitting down," said Deputy Warden E. M. Stubblefield of the Kansas State penitentiary. "They will be more alert and maintain a closer watch on prisoners if they remain on their feet."

So saying, he ordered all chairs and stools removed from the guard towers.

Tony Gaudio, film cameraman, comes from a family of noted photographers.

Mount Morris

BY PAULINE YOE

Mount Morris.—Keithra Dijon Palmer will present a large group of her talented young dancers in a modern dance revue at the high school gymnasium on Saturday evening, May 23. Although still a high school student, Keithra has had much success in this line of work and has made elaborate plans for the recital, which will include modern tap, toe acrobatic ballet, interpretative, Spanish, gypsy and character dancing.

Tony, as she is known to her friends, has arranged the routine, originated some of the steps and designed the beautiful costumes, using her senior class colors, silver and blue for her own costume.

In addition to the dance routine, Fay Forman will appear as whistler and Dotie Fleer and Merlyn Rothermel will sing. Mae Fleer will be at the piano throughout the program.

Miss Palmer's students are Doris Jane Cratty, Darlene Garman, Dorine Fleer, Iola Hageman, Jeanette Hammann, Verrill Morina, Phyllis Lizer, Jean Avey, Shirley Frey, Mildred Lingle, Marjorie Brinker, Doris Quinlan, Oral Miller, Helen Shoemaker, Jean Linger, Charlotte Avey, Doris Hoffman, Norma Saunders, Virginia Stouffer, Tina Mae Suter, Donna Lizer, Dorothy Nunn, Marjorie Lee Garrison, Jean Hazzard, Sonny Wishard, Lou Ann Smith, Arlene Messer, Pearl Wells, Bernadine Messer, Jeannette Hilger, Marian Moore and Jeanette Nunn.

Drs. C. J. Price, H. J. Stengel and M. S. Dumont, assisted by County Nurse Helen Stonick will complete the task of giving the Schick test to all grade and high school students who received diphtheria shots in February, on Thursday afternoon and Wednesday at the grade school. Parents of all children who have not already had the test are asked to cooperate in the work, for which the nominal charge of twenty-five cents will be made.

Dr. Robert Sharer and Dr. Leo Hardt, both of Chicago, attended a meeting of the American Medical Society in Kansas City this week, at which Dr. Sharer and Dr. Donald Guthrie, from whom Bob received much of his training in surgery, presented a joint paper of much interest to the association.

The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Company has a force of laborers employed on the line of track from Chicago to Minneapolis, passing through Oregon, in preparation for the two new streamline Zephyrs which they expect to put in operation the latter part of June. These new models will consist of seven cars each, replacing the three car trains now in service.

Mrs. Mary Wilde of Oregon announces the engagement of her daughter, Hazel, to Ralph Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Young of Oregon. The wedding will be an event of June 23.

Ferrell Patterson, a student at DeKalb Normal, is spending each week end in the home of his brother Harold. He also plans to make his home in Mount Morris during the summer vacation.

Reuben Marshall of Birmingham, Ala., arrived in town last Friday for his annual visit with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Walkup.

The 1936 soft ball season was officially opened Monday evening on the high school athletic field, with the Press Room playing the Mailers and the Engravers meeting the Bruner's Boosters.

The league consists of nine teams this year, namely Press Room, Mailers, Engravers, Cable News, Business Men, CCC Camp, Bruner's Boosters, Robinson's Colts, and Adeline.

The Mailers, who so courageously finished the 1935 season in last place, have strengthened their team, and will undoubtedly give a great deal more competition during the current season.

The Press Room team of last year, has remained practically intact. However, they have added strength in the person of Eddie Logan and Earl "Bugs" Ballard. Here is a team to be reckoned with when the last figures for the season are compiled.

The Engravers, Cable News and Business Men's teams have made but slight changes over their 1935 rosters, and this will undoubtedly make another tight race for the old tag.

The boys from the CCC Camp have been practicing for weeks, and they will be no setup for any of the teams, as they threatened the lead several times last year.

Three new teams make their initial appearance in the league this year. Bruner's Boosters have replaced the Phillips "66" team of last year, and have practically the same players, a group of youngsters who are fast fielders and can hit heavily. Robinson's Colts are a team whose players have been recruited from among topnotch players of the community, boasting such men as Bob Allen, Joe Vetrotte, Ralph Snodgrass, Matt Huthansel, Gordon Kimmel, Bob Marshall, Bud Jones and others of equal caliber.

The Adeline team, which played several exhibition games with several of the league teams last year, have elected to become regular members of the league for the current season, and will no doubt give a good account of themselves, as they are all experienced hard ball players.

It is the intention of the league management to play three rounds of thirty-six games each. Thus each team will meet every other team in the league three times. Two games are scheduled for Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings, the games to start promptly at 7 o'clock.

The schedule for the remainder of the week is as follows:

Wednesday—Cable News vs. Business Men; CCC Camp vs. Adeline. Friday—Engravers vs. Robinson's Colts; Press Room vs. Bruner's Boosters.

Those residents of Mount Morris who believe that Capital City Mail Carriers John Buck and Jay Bechtel lead the ideal existence, with nothing more to do than deliver letters along lilac-scented streets, while listening to the melodies of song birds, will probably change their perspectives when they are informed of the vast amount of work these public servants really do each day.

First, few people realize that the carriers walk approximately thirty-five miles every working day, and while doing so, deliver an average of 239 pounds of mail. This information was revealed in a recent survey of this service by the post office department.

If this is not convincing enough, consider the fact that these two carriers deliver an average of 1,757 pieces of mail daily to 1,140 boxes, the work including the sort of letters, papers, etc., into two hundred divisions, thus creating 398,596,000 chances for error, according to the actual computation. While 1,757 is the average, on heavy days the count frequently reaches a total of 2,500 to 2,750 pieces.

When one studies the above figures, and considers the fact that a city carrier makes his route through rain, snow, sleet and slush, just as the seasons deal him out, he must admit in all fairness that Jay and John really earn their money and deserve the hearty cooperation of patrons.

The imaginations of children are vivid enough but with the aid of gay lighting music, scintillant spangles, and colorful costumes, a veritable rhythmic fairyland was conjured by the dancing pupils of Ann Marie Schrader for the capacity audience which attended her second annual dance recital, given last Saturday evening in the high school gymnasium. As all fairy stories it was titled "Once Upon a Time" and paraded a panoramic procession of nursery rhyme characters, who gyrated with graceful steps to the cadenced accompaniment of J. Leslie Pierce as the theme of the story was unraveled by Miss Nellie Bishop and sung by Marylyce Olsen and Helen Barnhizer.

The talent displayed by the pupils in their graceful tap and toe dancing indicated that they had spent hours of work perfecting their steps under the tutelage of Mrs. Schrader.

The peppermint sticks, Mary Lee Birk, Lois Watt, Elaine Arbogast, Dorothy Watt, Caryl Berg, Betty Lou Ransone, Bonnie Fry, Marian Baker, Audrey Wynn, Mary Rose, Cecelia Laskos, Sally Berk, Bonnie Merriman and Lois Myers were a fitting compliment to Shirley Hansen and Betty Jean Kooz in a Hansel and Gretel pantomime. Robert and Eric Mann were presented in a clown dance and later with Wayne Ballard in "Three Little Pigs." Milly Lamm was there as Little Miss Muffet with her spider, as were Humpty and Dumpty (Jimmy Asp and Wayne Ballard) and Bo Peep (Betty Lou Ranson). Audrey Wynn and Mary Rose with Jimmy Asp made a laugh-provoking Dutch team. From out of the leaves of the fairy book came Snow White (Dorothy Watt) and seven dwarfs, who were Lois Myers, Bonnie Fry, Dolores Hough, Marlene Dohlen, Rita Mae Jahn, Charlotte Zastrow and Sally Clifford. The maids all in a row were very pretty indeed and made an attractive garden for Mistress Mary who in the person of Dorothy Watt, watered them and watched them grow. Red Riding Hood (Mary Lee Berk) was the sassy wolf and grandmother, and Betty Jean Kooz made a charming crooked man, while Elaine Arbogast and Jimmy Asp cleverly portrayed Jacques and Jille. Peter Pan as portrayed by Caryl Berg was lovely and very impressive and was followed by Dorothy Watt as a Marionette character. The three blind mice (Marilyn Davidson, Lois Watt and Sally Berk) danced in manner gay until the appearance of Puss in Boots (Shirley Hansen) who frightened them away that she might have the stage on which to preen herself. After Old King Cole, which was done by Jimmy Asp in his usual sure way, the entire ensemble appeared to write a fitting finale to "Once Upon a Time."

Tells Osteopaths
To Keep Politics
Out Of Business

Chicago, May 18.—(AP)—Dr. C. E. Cryer, of El Paso, Ill., in an address Monday at the opening session of the Illinois association of osteopathic physicians and surgeons, advised his listeners to "stay out of politics" if they would be successful.

"Vote intelligently, without saying too much about it," he warned. Other requirements for success, he said, included pleasing personality, good personal appearance and good habits, good business methods and "ethical advertising."

Other speakers were Dr. A. H. Miller, Rockford; Dr. H. F. Garfield, Danville; Dr. H. H. Halliday, Galesburg; Dr. E. P. Wright, Belvidere, state president, and Dr. Fannie Carpenter, Chicago.

A symposium on the treatment of influenza was conducted for the delegates at the Chicago Osteopathic hospital.

Ferdinand Gottschalk, born in London, has been an actor in America 54 years.
